

PACT MERITS NO LONGER UP FOR ARGUMENT

Less Than Dozen Senators A Re Fighting Overwhelming Majority

VOTE DUE THIS WEEK

No Doubt from Beginning Regarding Ultimate Result of Struggle

Washington (CPA)—The controversy over the ratification of the naval treaty has ceased to be a debate on the merits of the pact and has resolved itself into an effort to win a battle of endurance against an overwhelming majority, in fact against two-thirds of the senate, who have been ready at all times to vote for adoption of the agreement.

From the beginning it has been apparent that a small minority opposed ratification but the administration forces, as well as the Democrats who wanted the pact adopted, did not think it tactful to curtail debate or resort to pressure for a vote.

Whenever a strong minority wishes to debate a proposal at length, the position usually expands all the time necessary so that there will be no criticism of railroading.

Now, however, the minority has plenty of time in which to express itself, has made its record, and is endeavoring simply to win by parliamentary maneuvers such as a filibuster or a quorum. Thus far there has been a majority of the senate present whenever the quorum call has been made. This has required, however, the presence of anti-treaty senators. It has been possible, of course, or some of the latter group to stay away and thus force some of the treaty advocates to come back to the senate chamber.

Tactics like these can be kept up indefinitely but there is an element of sportsmanship in the senate now.

Early Saturday there was hope of a final vote being taken within the next 48 hours, but it would not be surprising if the roll call were delayed until the middle of this week.

One Killed, 87 Hurt In Cairo Riot

Students Clash With Troops and Civil Police Over Political Situation

Cairo, Egypt (AP)—The members of the chamber of deputies which was prorogued last week today convened an extraordinary session of parliament on Saturday for solution of Egyptian political strife.

Cairo, Egypt (AP)—One rioter was killed, 87 injured, 27 seriously, by gunfire and missiles during severe rioting which climaxed the political situation here today.

There was much damage to property while troops, civil police and excited students by thousands struggled for the upper hand along principal streets of Cairo. In one thoroughfare hardly a window remained unbroken in the showers of stones and other objects hurled by the rioters.

The troops were obliged to use their rifles freely. So severe was the encounter that after the police had obtained the upper hand emergency relief squads lined some of the streets treating the injured. More than a score were taken to hospitals. Losses on the side of the police and troops were not made known.

The rioting crowds, furious when news spread that the followers of former Premier Nahas Pasha had called off their proposed "outlaw" parliament session, ripped up lamp posts, barricaded a street with ever obstruction that could lay hands on and set fire to an escaping gas column which, however, the police extinguished.

Twelve rioters fell in the second volley from the troops. The first round had been fired into the air.

BLAME FIXED FOR CIRCUS TRAIN CRASH

4 Killed, 20 Hurt in Derailment of Special on Canadian Road

Moncton, N. B. (AP)—A truck arch bar falling beneath a car was blamed today by Canadian National railway officials for the wreck of a circus train in which four were killed and 20 were injured yesterday.

The derailed train was a special carrying the Al G. Barnes circus from Newcastle to Charlottetown. The train consisted of 23 cars and the nine derailed cars, four passenger and five flat cars, were behind the seventeenth from the engine.

Three men on one of the derailed flat cars were killed outright. They were Albert Johnson and Frank Flanagan, Los Angeles, who were employed as promoters and James Arthur Stephens, a one-armed young man of Fredericton, N. B., who was not connected with the circus and was believed to have trespassed on the train. James MacFarland, a waiter, believed to be from Montreal, died soon after the wreck in a hospital.

None of the circus animals was hurt in the wreck. A special relief train brought doctors and nurses from Moncton, where the dead and injured were taken.

100,000 MORE TROOPS IN CHINESE CIVIL WAR

Shanghai (AP)—Nationalist military authorities at Nanking today indicated the government had adopted a program whereby 100,000 additional troops will be sent to the civil war fronts in Honan and Shantung provinces.

The additional troops will be used in an attempt to break the deadlock between Northern rebel and Nationalist armies. Twenty thousand of these reinforcements were reported already concentrated at Pukow ready to move northward.

AX MURDERER SLAYS THREE IN ILLINOIS

Think Woman Killed Husband and Son Then Took Her Own Life

Lake Geneva, Ill. (AP)—C. A. Anderson, 55, his wife, 48, and their son, 15, were found backed to death in their farm home near here early this morning when neighbors were aroused by fire which had gained considerable headway in the residence.

A brother of the woman, Charles Larson, 40, asleep on the second floor of the home was awakened by smoke and discovered the bodies. He was held by police for questioning. Sheriffs in reconstructing the crime indicated their belief that the woman probably killed her husband and son with a long handled ax, and then slew herself by using a hatchet as a knife.

Anderson's body was found across his bed with deep slashes in the head and body. The son, Willis, was found in another room cut, beaten and unconscious. He died without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Anderson was found on the living room floor, her wrists and throat cut and a hand ax nearby.

Larsen said he was aroused by smoke and left the house by an outside exit. Neighbors found him attempting to break into a lower window of the house when they were attracted by smoke and flames.

The beds of Anderson and the son were burning when Larsen and the neighbors found the bodies. Sheriff Ulrich said financial troubles may have been the cause of the slayings.

BLAME HEAT FOR ATTACK

Detroit (AP)—A 49-year-old man attacked his wife and three children with a hammer and an ice pick today and then hanged himself in the hall of the home.

He was cut down by police and placed in the psychopathic ward of Receiving hospital where physicians expressed the opinion that his mind had been affected by the intense heat. The prisoner, Fred Brandel, had been out of work. The only one of his victims injured seriously was a son, Otto, 12, who was stabbed near the heart. His condition is critical.

REPORT BISHOP CANNON MARRIED IN ENGLAND

London (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, was married at Christ church, Mayfair last Tuesday afternoon, to a Mrs. McCallum. It was made known today.

Richmond, Va. (AP)—Reports from London that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was married there last Tuesday to a Mrs. McCallum, came as a surprise to his associates and friends here today.

The Rev. J. Sydney Peeters, a close associate of the veteran churchman and prohibition worker during the anti-Smith campaign of 1925, said he had not heard of the marriage.

Rumors that Bishop Cannon, who is 65 years old, was married, were received here on several occasions about six months ago, but investigation showed they were without foundation. The churchman at that time was abroad on an episcopal mission. He is bishop of Africa, Brazil, Mexico and Cuba.

Mrs. McCallum was reported to have been Bishop Cannon's secretary for about a year. She came over with him recently and stayed at the home of St. Henry and Lady Lunn.

Mrs. McCallum who had not been well had planned to rest in England until the bishop's return from South America, where the couple expected to be married.

Final Senate Vote Near On Disarmament Treaty

Opponents Hopelessly in Minority—Vote May Come Tonight or Tuesday

Washington (AP)—The senate today adopted the Norris reservation to the London Naval treaty stipulating that no approval is given by ratification to any secret agreement or understanding which may exist in relation to the pact.

Washington (AP)—With the thermometer approaching record heights, an exhausted senate approached a final vote on the London naval limitations treaty today with some leaders believing it might be reached tonight or tomorrow at the latest.

Before the stack of reservations could be tackled Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, spoke in behalf of the pact. Both sides then were ready to go to work on the reservations, determined to end the unequal contest.

Wagner said the pact was "feeble" but urged ratification to "facilitate future agreements of actual reduction."

More than the necessary two-thirds majority is ready to vote for today showed 61 members present. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, returned to the chamber today. It was the first time he has been present during the special session.

Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, one of the leaders of the opposition, predicted a vote before midnight. He said "if no one speaks more than 10 days we will go through by 3 or 4 o'clock."

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, urged ratification. He said the pact was "not the final end of international conference and cooperation, but rather only step number two in the march toward peace rather than war."

"If this treaty is rejected," he added, "no nation will be induced to considering seriously our requests for further conferences."

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS SENT TO JAIL

Little Chute Man Also Must Pay Fine and Will Lose Driver's License

Norbert Van Handel, Little Chute, was fined $50 and costs, given a jail sentence of 45 days, and deprived of his driver's license for six months by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to driving a car while drunk.

Van Handel does not pay the fine. He must spend an additional 90 days in the county jail. Judge Berg imposed the heavy sentence, he said, because Van Handel had threatened several cars. The Little Chute man was arrested at Kaukauna after he crashed into several cars parked in front of a garage on Wisconsin-ave.

He was taken to the police station where he was held all night. The cars which he struck were slightly damaged. Before reaching Kaukauna Van Handel's machine had sliced a car driven by Fred Hendritz, Appleton, on Highway 41 just beyond the Kaukauna city limits.

MOONEY WITNESS READY TO FACE GOVERNOR YOUNG

San Francisco (AP)—Ill and silent John MacDonald, recounting words whose testimony helped send James J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings to prison for alleged participation in the Preparedness day bombing here, was back in San Francisco today ready to brand himself a perjurer in an effort to set the two men free.

Accompanied by his attorneys, and Edwin N. Nocher, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, MacDonald ended his journey from Baltimore last night.

MacDonald's attorneys, with Frank P. Walsh, New York lawyer, representing the Mooney defense committee, and Edwin V. McKenzie, representing Billings, prepared to bring MacDonald's story before Gov. C. G. Young and the California Supreme court.

STORM CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE IN VICINITY

Wind and Rain Bring Relief from Heat and Havoc to Farms of District

Damage of thousands of dollars resulted in this vicinity Sunday evening when a severe wind and rain storm swept from the cloud blackened skies to bring relief after one of the hottest days in years.

Many trees were uprooted, scores of barns were demolished, hundreds of small buildings and sheds were flattened by the heavy wind and driving rain which struck about 7 o'clock.

One injury was reported as the direct result of the storm when the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bohman, who live about three miles south of Appleton on a farm, was cut and bruised as a timber crashed through the roof of the house and buried the youngster under a pile of debris.

The highest temperature recorded here in years, 100 degrees above zero, was touched about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to official reports. Unofficial reports claimed temperatures from 120 to 130 degrees of higher.

As the heat-laden breezes swept through the city thousands of people sought relief in the waters and along the shores of the lakes and rivers in the vicinity. Thousands of people went to Lake Winnebago and all other lakes and river resorts were the mecca of hundreds of people seeking relief.

MOTORING NO RELIEF

Although no fatalities were reported Appleton physicians were busy treating patients almost overcome by the heat.

Many tourists sought relief from the heat by driving, but they found that even this failed to furnish cool breezes as the heat waves could not be escaped.

The sky began clouding up about 6 o'clock and the storm struck about 7 o'clock. Although the wind did not reach the proportions of the recent storm about two weeks ago it was strong enough to flatten many fields of grain, thereby affecting the benefits of the accompanying rain, for which the farmers have prayed for weeks.

GIRL IS INJURED

One person was injured and two large barns were destroyed on the Bohman farm.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bohman received lacerations and bruises when two timbers from a large barn crashed through the northeast side of their house, wrecking the interior. The child was buried under debris.

The wind picked up the largest of the two barns and hurled it about 100 feet, sending the large timbers through a smaller adjoining barn, and into the farm home.

Part of the damage is covered by cyclone insurance, according to Mr. Bohman.

POWER LINES LOWERED

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company reported today losses in the vicinity of Appleton. New London and Kaukauna where two high tension lines were blown down by the gale. Other wire breaks also were reported from small villages and towns in the vicinity.

AUTO WRECKS TRAIN, 3 MEN TO FACE CHARGES

Elizabeth, N. J. (AP)—Three men whose automobile wrecked a passenger express train from Philadelphia to New York Saturday night causing the death of one and injury to 65 were under charges of manslaughter today.

Arthur Alcroft, an Elizabeth building contractor, his brother James, a member of the faculty of Ohio Northern university, Ada, Ohio, and William McNair of Elizabeth were held in connection with the death of John Craig, 144 McDonald st. Brooklyn, Craig died yesterday in Elizabeth General hospital of a fracture of the skull and internal injuries received in the wreck. None of the 54 victims who remained in hospitals is expected to die.

The locomotive and tender were overturned and two coaches hurtled down a 35-foot embankment at a tangle after the train struck the automobile a short distance east of the South Elizabeth station of the Pennsylvania railroad.

KENTUCKY CROPS NEARLY WIPED OUT

Lack of Rain Causing Farmers to Wonder if They'll Have Any at All

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—While agricultural experts have been stumping the country preaching the doctrine of lower production at the cure for farm ills, Kentucky farmers have been wondering if they will have any crops at all this year.

A week ago the state department of agriculture estimated that half of the state's tobacco and corn crops were already gone beyond recall because of drought, and that the hay crop was even more seriously damaged. The department predicted that as the drought continued so would the situation become more grievous.

Today officials at the college of agriculture, not given to bearish statements, confirmed the state department's estimate and said that since there has been no rain since it was issued, conditions were necessarily worse.

Repeated predictions of local thunderstorms made by government weather bureaus gave little solace to the farmers, for the showers afford but slight relief in the present situation. Rainfall this spring and summer has been only half of normal, and continuous rain for a hard one is the only hope for crops.

Pasture lands have dried up, making it necessary to buy commercial feeds for cattle, and the present heat wave and a previous one dried up streams and ponds so that farmers are compelled to carry water for long distances to their stock.

SOUTH CAROLINA MAY LOSE 1 CONGRESSMAN

Washington (AP)—Announcement by the census bureau today of South Carolina's population as 1,732,721, an increase of 45,847 or 2.5 per cent, indicates that state may lose one of its delegation of seven representatives in the reapportionment of the house of representatives.

This change may result in the state of Washington gaining an additional representative, as forecast by the house census committee on the basis of estimated populations.

South Carolina had not been expected to lose any of its delegation but its population increase in the last ten years did not come up to previous estimates.

The state's population as of Jan. 1 this year was placed by the house census committee at 1,734,000. The actual population fell 124,000 short of that mark.

GUARD SHOT, MANY ARE WOUNDED IN ROBBERY

Vienna (AP)—One guard was shot and many passengers wounded when brigands held up a train near Constantza, reports from that town today stated.

The train boarded the train while it was traveling slowly up a grade. It was the first class passenger car which was robbed and the guard shot and wounded. Many passengers were wounded and some killed. The train halted and the bandits escaped.

10 DROWNINGS ARE REPORTED IN WISCONSIN

THREE KILLED BY HEAT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heat—Philip Hamm, 70, Earl Norton, 35, George Elsholtz, 54, all of Milwaukee.

A heat wave unprecedented in Milwaukee since 1900, drove persons from the city to lakes and beaches. The thermometer here showed 100 degrees at 2 o'clock p. m. The entire state sweltered and sought comfort in the outdoors.

Fires and Water were rampant in the Menominee river valley Sunday and Monday at different points along the banks. Fires, daily campfires at Marinette, and a poor swimmer, waded beyond his depth, 74-year-old, unable to swim, waded the far from shore and was swept away by the current. Bodies of both boys were recovered. Barry, a Portage implement merchant, was drowned at Swan's Lake while bathing with a group of friends. Robinson lost his life in an attempt to save a child from drowning.

Wisconsin's first drowning of the season was reported today. The body of Mrs. Warren downtown in Columbus pond. Mrs. Warren was saved by Edwin Coushlin, Portage. The Dwyer boy fell 20 feet from an abandoned well near Adrian and was drowned. Platteau lost his life while swimming in Singlet Lake near Bayfield. The Missouri boy was struck down and fatally injured by an automobile as he dashed across a street in front of his Waukegan home. Chamberlain's body was found in a wrecked car on Highway 44 near Wisconsin Rapids. He apparently lost control of his car and crashed into a telephone pole.

Elmore, representing an automobile finance company, apparently lost control of the car he was driving in a curve near Portage. The car struck a tree, and the boy was killed and crushed. His body was found in the wreckage of the car 25 feet off the road.

Yesterday's heat proved fatal to two Milwaukee children who were killed in a water Saturday. Norton fell to the sidewalk when overcome and sustained a fractured skull. Elsholtz, a hospital attendant, collapsed while at work and died a few hours later. Hamm was found in a ditch near Portage. It is said the injured had attempted a previous swim.

MERCURY FALLS

Chicago (AP)—With the middle west's summer storm on the ropes, the Man Weather bureau reported today that the mercury was expected to fall to the low 70s by Saturday. The bureau said the late season's temperature was expected to be in the 70s.

From the oppressive days of the 1920s, when some sections of the country were almost devoid of relief as showers knocked down the mercury to the late season's temperature.

To the south of the lake and heat, the mercury in the last two days in the Chicago area, were added, five more deaths today, all attributed to the heat.

The train growing plains states were first recipients of cooler weather. Des Moines, Omaha and St. Paul in the north, reporting temperatures in the low 70s, with some rain last night in Omaha and sections of Iowa.

In addition to the deaths by stroke, a number of fatalities were recorded in the metropolitan area of Chicago where upwards of a million persons sought relief in the lakes. Drownings accounted for almost a score of lives while automobile accidents contributed to the toll.

With relief edging eastward slowly portions east of the lake region were not yet feeling the effects of the drop. Ohio reported temperatures in the 70s.

Japanese Storms Claim Known Toll Of 408 Lives

DAMAGE RUNS TO MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

Official Figures Still Lacking—May Increase Total Estimates

Tokio (AP)—Torrential rains and terrific winds today had claimed toll of at least 408 lives and devastated huge areas in southern Japan and Korea, leaving waste property valued by conservative Tokyo newspapers at millions of dollars.

In one area alone, Kiusiu island, at the foot of the Japanese empire, property damage reached 100,000,000 yen (about $50,000,000). Other districts reported great damage from storms of the last two weeks, but official figures were lacking. There were 65 known dead on Kiusiu. Many were missing and hundreds injured.

Seoul dispatches to Tokyo news agencies said 58 deaths were known to have resulted from last Friday's typhoon which swept in from the Pacific, lashed Kiusiu and whipped across Korea straight into the provinces of Keshonando, Kiesshokoku, Kankyonando and Kogendo. These provinces, still suffering from the effect of recent floods which killed at least 285 persons, and made thousands homeless, were hard hit by the typhoon.

KOREA ALSO HIT HARD

Property damage in Korea was much smaller than on Kiusiu, but only because of the comparative poverty of the inhabitants.

Indications were the Korean death toll would mount much higher. Ninety-two fishing craft, carrying more than five hundred fishermen, were missing at sea. Eighty-three persons were unaccounted for ashore.

More than 120 vessels, mostly fishing boats, were missing from Kiusiu island, where 950 craft of the same type were sunk by the typhoon.

Seas were reported to have reached tidal wave proportions along the eastern coast of Korea.

Cables between Japan and the mainland were damaged by the typhoon. Service between Japan and China virtually ceased and Japan-European service fared not much better.

Full extent of the typhoon damage probably will not be known for several days and days. Today's lines in many affected areas have not been restored.

The wind at times was reported to have reached a velocity exceeding one hundred miles an hour.

DOMINION ELECTION OPENS THIS WEEK

Nomination Day Held Today With Election Set for Next Monday

Ottawa, Ont. (AP)—First votes of the dominion general election will be cast this week. Today is nomination day. On Thursday, advance polls open for railway workers, commercial travelers, and sailors. Election day is next Monday.

Report 60 Casualties In New Indian Demonstration

Bombay (AP)—While the troubles of turbulent India moved nearer mediation today, reports told of a clash at Jubulpore Saturday which caused 60 casualties.

A riot developed after Nationalist volunteers lay in front of a motor truck carrying liquor supplies to a contractor's store. Police picked up and removed the first group of prone manifestants who were immediately replaced by others. The police fired eight rounds to end the trouble which followed.

Among the injured were the city magistrate, the excise officer, the police superintendent and twelve policemen.

Elsewhere there were indications that the strife which followed Mahatma Gandhi's non-cooperation movement might be settled peacefully.

The present leader of the Indian Nationalists indicated yesterday that a compromise with the government was possible. Vallabhai Patel, who was at the time president of the

LABOR YIELDS POINT TO HOUSE OF LORDS

Will Accept Clause by Peers in Principle on Coal Mines Bill

London (AP)—The MacDonald Labor government was expected to yield a point to the house of lords in a coal bill amendment which likely will be submitted to the house of commons tonight.

The lords have troubled the government at numerous times with opposition to certain portions of the coal mines bill, occasionally defeating them in a vote, and with a hope to settle the contentious measure this week the MacDonald forces will accept in principle a point of the upper house with regard to mine working hours.

Heretofore the ministry has held out for a 74-hour working day in the mines. The lords would replace the provision with one permitting a "spreadover" fortnight of 30 working hours. The miners' federation executive has approved the "spreadover" system.

It is understood that the government's amendment will embody that principle but will provide that the "spreadover" can be applied only by joint agreement of the mine owners and the miners' association be inoperative without their joint approval.

5,000 PRESENT AT OPENING OF VETS' HOSPITAL

Col. Gilbert Seaman Talks for Kohler at Dedication Ceremony

Waupaca—A throng of 5,000 from all nearby sections of Wisconsin made the pilgrimage in 92-degree heat Sunday to Waupaca for the official opening of the new $170,000 Wisconsin Veterans' hospital and home. Col. Gilbert Seaman of Milwaukee was principal speaker, substituting for Gov. Kohler, who was unable to be present.

Other addresses were given by Congressman Edward E. Browne, Waupaca, of the Eighth Wisconsin district, and State Atty. Gen. Ralph Immel. State officials and military notables of Wisconsin joined in the inspection of the home which was thrown open Sunday morning and remained open for the public until late Sunday afternoon.

VETERANS CHANGE HOMES

Atouching part of the services occurred in the morning when the contingent of civil and Spanish-American war veterans, and widows of other veterans, left their old frame dwelling to take up quarters in the new brick structure, replete with most modern hospital equipment, sun parlors, ventilating and recreation systems, and furnishings.

To Dr. E. F. Hafmeister, head physician and surgeon, and Col. John Turner, governor of the home, the speakers gave considerable credit for its completion. Other staff members include Dr. E. H. Breckenridge, Dr. A. M. Christofferson, and Head Nurse Jessie Bentley.

APPLETON BAND PLAYS

Music at Sunday's program was by the 125th Field Artillery band of Appleton.

Plans for the hospital were drawn by Arthur Peabody, state architect, and were executed by Mortenson and Knudson, Waupaca, contractors. The main portion of the sand colored brick structure is flanked by wings. It is located on the picturesque shores of Rainbow lake, one of the twenty-one links in the Chain of Lakes, known to tourists as the "Killarner of America."

"GREATEST LANDLORD" KILLS SELF IN NEW YORK

New York (AP)—The suicide of Harry Black, known as the "world's greatest landlord" because of his extensive hotel interests, was ascribed by friends today to "lack of interest."

Evidently successful in business at 67, happily married, he had no hobby of real interest to hold his attention or, apparently, to make prospect of further life pleasant. His gift for organization and management made unnecessary very much attention to his business.

Mrs. Black was in Europe on her first separation from him since their marriage in 1922, and friends said he apparently was overcome with melancholy.

Lack of powder marks on the temple, where entered the bullet which took his life Saturday at his Long Island estate, led to an extended investigation, but the inquiry was dropped today and the death was officially listed as "Suicide: Reason: Melancholy."

Mr. Black was head of the United States Realty and Improvement company, which owned and operated a chain of hotels; a director of the National City bank, the George A. Fuller company, the M. K. and T. railroad and other enterprises.

BABIES' PARENTAGES TO BE DETERMINED TODAY BY EXPERTS

Chicago (AP)—Charles Evans Watkins will either remain the infant son of the William Watkins by nightfall or else he will become George Edward Bamberger, son of the Charles Bambergers.

Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel has called a neurologist, a dermatologist and an anthropologist to do the deciding.

Both boys were born the same day in the same hospital—three weeks ago. Their mothers were discharged the same day. Then father Watkins found a tape marked "Bamberger" on his baby's back. One marked "Watkins" was found on Baby Bamberger's back.

The Bambergers refused to give up their baby. They said the tapes were wrong. A blood test was unsatisfactory and Dr. Kegel depended today on a comparison of nervous reactions, skin pigmentation, racial characteristics and eye features.

Differentiation by inherited characteristics was hopeless. Mrs. Watkins has a protruding jaw; her husband dark. Mrs. Bamberger is dark and her husband light. Mrs. Watkins has a protruding jaw; her husband's is receding. Mr. Bamberger's jaw is receding; his wife's protruding.

And both babies have receding jaws.

William Doerfler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Doerfler, 343 W. Wisconsin-ave, left Sunday for Fairbault, Minn., after spending two weeks vacation here with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. George McKenney and family left Sunday on a two weeks vacation trip in the northern part of the state.

CARETAKER KILLS EMPLOYER, OFFICER AND TAKES OWN LIFE

Two Others Wounded by Employee on Estate in Pennsylvania

Wilkes Barre, Pa. (AP)—An enraged caretaker of a Lehman Heights estate, near here, shot his employer and a deputy sheriff to death, wounded two other persons and then took his own life when cornered by a posse yesterday.

Those killed by Paul Skopka were Harry D. Sordoni of Kingston, owner of the estate and John T. Ruth, chief of police of Harvey's Lake and deputy sheriff of Luzerne-co. Sordoni's 17-year-old daughter, Frieda, was shot in both arms and his son, Francis, 25, was wounded in the right hip and legs.

The shooting began when Mr. and Mrs. Sordoni, their daughters, Frieda and Florence and their son, Francis, arrived at the Sordoni estate Saturday night to spend the weekend. They were unloading packages from their motor car when Skopka opened fire with a double-barreled shotgun. The elder Sordoni fell mortally wounded. Francis was struck down by another volley as he went to his father's assistance and Frieda was shot when she leaped into an automobile and started for aid.

Despite the wound, the girl sped to the home of a physician, who notified the police. Miss Sordoni then returned to the scene of the shooting and took her mother, who had fainted, and her father to a hospital at Kingston. Another motorist took her brother to the same hospital.

When police arrived at the secluded estate there was no trace of Skopka. A posse searched the woods in vain throughout the night. As dawn broke a shot from a bush brought Ruth down, mortally wounded. Skopka put his last shot into his own head.

HOLD SERVICES FOR VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Funeral services for August Wolfgram, Jr., formerly of this city, who was killed last Thursday afternoon when he fell from a scaffold while doing construction work at Mauston, were held Saturday morning at Nekosha Congregational church, the Rev. C. O'Neill, officiating. Several local relatives attended services.

Wolfgram was laying brick on a section of scaffolding suspended about 14 feet above a concrete sidewalk. He lost his footing and fell to the ground striking his head on the concrete. He died a few hours later.

Hint Turkey's Oldest Man Is Fleeing From A Woman

BY JACK IAMS Copyright 1930 by Cons. Press New York—After 156 years of living, Zaro Aga, Turkey's grand old man, still finds it a pleasant business. Zaro has just begun a pleasant jaunt through America, and at his New York hotel today he declared he was enjoying himself hugely.

Zaro arrived in Providence Friday from Istanbul and came down to New York Friday night with two servants, his manager, and a physical expert. He hopes to be presented to Mayor Walker next week.

No one is quite sure why Zaro has honored America with this visit. Advance rumors were that he is to be exhibited by the anti-saloon league as a living example of what abstinence will do, but his manager denies this flatly. He also refutes the notion that Zaro will be exhibited in Ringling Brothers' collection of freaks. He turned down the offer of $2,500 a week from an amusement museum in Atlantic City.

A dispatch from Istanbul, however, hints at a much slyer reason for this American outing. Zaro is said to be retreating from a lady, Fatma Hanoum, a mere flapper of 110 years, is using all her charms to capture the heart of Zaro, but he has different ideas. Not that he has no eye for the ladies. Zaro has been a ladies' man for a good many years.

He has outlived 11 wives and is still very happy with number 12, although he admits that something in the line of a plump young brunette might find an opening as number 13. Four years ago he turned down a gift of a harem belle from the Amir of Afghanistan. But that, he explained, was because she was too thin. Zaro says he has never taken an alcoholic drink or used tobacco. He is a tall man, still robust and rugged, although he explains that he was immeasurably bigger as a younger man in his prime. He has stronger in his prime. He has no hair and wears false teeth, but flowing white mustache lends an air of insouciance that belies his age. He cannot read or write, but he is a good hand at praying, which he does very regularly every morning along with setting up exercises. He has had 36 children at one time or another, but only one of them is living.

His first appearance in New York will be within a few days before the Medical Editors and Authors association. After that he intends to travel about the country being examined by various clinics and medical schools, from which he expects fee

J. Gilligan, of the industry and commerce department, announced that he would take attempt to avert the general strike by making proposals which he hoped would be acceptable to both sides in the dispute.

LOWER PROPERTY TAXES PLEDGED BY L'FOLLETTE

Progressive Candidate for Governor Announces Platform

Madison (AP)—Based on the theory that the people must resume control of their government if it is to serve them instead of monopoly, the platform of Philip LaFollette, Madison, Progressive candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was announced here today.

The platform, aimed at the outstanding topics before the state today, is a 5,000-word statement in which Mr. LaFollette reaffirmed "unswerving allegiance to the fundamental principles of democracy upon which Robert M. LaFollette built the Progressive movement."

Mr. LaFollette, in part, pledges lower property taxes through revision of the income tax law, favors public ownership in the public utility fields, condemns chain banking, promises strengthening of the corrupt practice act and a constitutional amendment for the initiative and referendum, upholds the direct primary, favors state control of liquor, denounces the Hawley-Smoot tariff, pledges agriculture aid, criticizes Gov. Walter J. Kohler's inaction during the unemployment crisis, favors an increased gasoline tax, and supports the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway.

A pledge that he would adhere to his platform if elected was made by Mr. LaFollette when he said:

"The founder of the Progressive movement in Wisconsin gave life to the principle that a platform is a contract between the people and their representatives, and that the violation of a platform pledge is a betrayal of the fundamental principle of representative government."

Wisconsin's citizens must meet the electric power issue at the ballot box in order to stave off the influences of a "Power Trust," the platform asserts. As a candidate Mr. LaFollette favors:

Public competition in the generation and distribution of electric power "as the only effective means of protecting the public from exorbitant rates and the vicious practices of the Power Trust."

FAVORS STATE AID

State aid of municipalities interested in public ownership of electric utilities.

Support of an amendment to permit cities the right to construct power plants in competition with private ones.

Support for cities banding together to form power districts.

A change in the law that would permit farmers to organize mutual telephone lines.

The chain banking system, the platform reads, has been introduced in Wisconsin during the present administration with the active aid of the governor. Mr. LaFollette says present laws are adequate to curb chain systems, and he pledges their enforcement. He also favors legislation which will outlaw banks owned by foreign companies.

Pointing to a pledge made by Governor Kohler when he was a candidate in which a strengthening of the corrupt practice act was urged, Mr. LaFollette's platform then says the pledge was not redeemed and more than $100,000 was spent to elect him.

"We protest against any proposal however disguised, to force a revision of the Corrupt Practices act in the 1931 legislature which would sanction and make lawful the methods used on behalf of the Republican nominee for governor in the 1928 campaign," LaFollette's platform says.

Because it will "bring the government closer to the people, the platform advocates the initiative and referendum.

On the question of prohibition, LaFollette says, in part:

"We assert the right and the moral capacity of the people of Wisconsin to deal wisely and effectively with this and other domestic problems in accordance with their legally expressed will."

He says further, "We warn the people of Wisconsin that the Steward platform proposal of a national 'advisory' referendum on prohibition completely fails to safeguard the right of the state to deal with this problem."

For agriculture, the platform pledges reduction of taxes, marketing aid, and strengthening of co-operative farm organizations.

Special attention is called to dairymen, where the candidate pledges strict enforcement of relating laws.

"We pledge our continued alle-

SMOKY FURNACES LEAD TO ALARMS ON HOTTEST DAY

Despite the fact that Appleton sweltered in a heat wave which sent the thermometer soaring around the 100-degree mark Sunday, the Appleton fire department was called out twice because smoky furnaces led occupants of homes to believe that a fire had started.

About 1:30 the department was called to the Candore Tea Room when a defective pipe from the furnace permitted smoke to escape. About 2 o'clock the department was called to the residence of C. S. Dickinson, 607 E. Alston, where a similar fire was discovered.

The department also was called out about 1 o'clock Sunday morning when a cigar set fire to a cushion in a car owned by Martin Rehfeldt. The blaze was put out before serious damage resulted.

glance to the fundamental principle that taxes should be levied according to the ability to pay," the platform says as its basis for opposing the present administration's recommendation that new and unexplored sources of taxation should take precedence over revision of the income tax rates now in force.

SCORES TAX DODGERS

The administration policy would mean sales and poll taxes, the platform holds, and not taxation levied on those best able to pay. Mr. LaFollette pledges a fight on tax dodgers and favors a revision of the Smith income tax law in order that "great wealth shall pay its just proportionate share of the tax burden and that farmers and home-owners shall be relieved of excessive state taxes which are unjust and oppressive."

Under the heading "Labor and Unemployment," pledges are given to relieve the unemployment situation by planning public works to care for workers over the year. Mr. LaFollette would strengthen the state employment exchanges, provide vocational retraining, and extend the old age pension system. He would abolish injunctions in labor disputes.

"We condemn the unwarranted delay of the present state administration in holding up contracts for authorized public works and the complete failure to utilize the Industrial Commission and other agencies available for adding the unemployed in the state," the platform reads.

Mr. LaFollette said he favors a comprehensive program for all phases of conservation. While opposing private game preserves, he favors a definite program of acquisition of resources for the citizenry, a definite reforestation program, and a fire prevention plan.

Because every person is entitled to equal chances for education, the platform supports state aid to poorer districts as an assurance of educational advantages for all. Mr. LaFollette also says he favors enlisting higher institutions to aid the state in solving problems.

Coupled with a well-balanced highway program, the platform supports an increased gasoline tax and a "distribution of a fair share of the revenues thus obtained back to the several units of local government in a manner fair to them and to the state."

Because of deplorable conditions in many of the state institutions, Mr. LaFollette urges prompt, legislative aid.

He supports economy in government.

While favoring the Deep Waterways project, the platform condemns Chicago's water diversion.

Maine Youth Arrested in Murder of Girl Clerk

James M. Mitchell, 22-year-old shipping clerk, was held by police at Portland, Me., on charges of killing and then burning the body of pretty Lillian I. MacDonald (right), a payroll clerk in the same firm. The picture at the left shows Mitchell (right) in the custody of Inspector Richard Nugent, immediately after his arrest. Mitchell was said to have confessed that he hit Miss MacDonald with a grate shaker when she repulsed his advances, then placed her body in a furnace. The charred remains were found on the day after the girl's disappearance with $500 of her employer's money.

RARE EXHIBIT ON BETTER SIRE TRAIN

One Family of Cows Consisting of Five Generations to Be Shown

A rare exhibit of one family of cows consisting of five generations will be one of the feature exhibits of the Better Sire Special which will be at Black Creek on Wednesday, July 30. This remarkable family of cows belongs to Fred and Reuben Wittenbel of Garfield, Minn., and was located for the special by Frank Astorch of the National Jersey Cattle association. One of the owners will be with the exhibit at Black Creek and tell the history of their development, their feeding and management, and have the records made in the local cow testing association.

This exhibit will be housed in one of the Special exhibit cars of the Soo Line Agricultural department, and the fact that it is housed in regular dairy barn equipment adds much to the display of this car.

The famous scrub trial, which will open the program at 2 o'clock took on a more serious aspect this week when 12 local men received subpoenas to serve on the jury especially empaneled to hear the case of Soo Line Susie, vs. Scrubus Bullus. The following men were subpoenaed: Fred Drephal, Guy Daniels, Richard Wickesberg, James Kennedy, Louis E. Nichols, Art Bergsbaken, Mike Mack, Fred Piestadt, Frank Schroeder, Fred Blohm, Patrick Garvey and Alfred Mueller. The trial will be followed by a short talk on the importance of the herd sire in today's dairy industry, given by a representative of the Wisconsin Agricultural college. This will be followed by the setting up of the auction sale ring, and the auctioneer, provided by the Agricultural Credit corporation, will begin the sale of local bulls.

CHURCH TO CONSTRUCT TWO NEW EXIT DOORS

Two new exit doors will be constructed at St. Joseph church, one on the east and one on the west side, and a vestibule will be built on the west side. The contracts have not been awarded yet, but inasmuch as the improvements were ordered completed by Sept. 1 by the building inspector, John N. Welland, and an inspector from the state industrial commission, it is probable that work will begin very soon.

At St. Joseph hall a number of exit lights will be put in, provision will be made for an exit on the west side, and the moving picture booth will be rebuilt.

THREE PROBATE CASES LISTED FOR HEARING

Three probate cases are listed for hearing at a special term of Outagamie-co court at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning before Municipal Judge Theodore Berg at the courthouse. Judge Berg is sitting for Judge Fred V. Heinemann, who is on his vacation. Cases on the calendar are: hearing on petition for administration in the estates of Charles and Frances Wilkner and George F. Butler; hearing on final account in the estate of Augusta Timm.

FIND NO TRACES OF ROADHOUSE OPERATOR

No trace of Arthur Wright, proprietor of Butt Inn, located 12 miles west of Waupaca, who last Wednesday night shot Donald McKay, 25, Waupaca, in the roadhouse, has been found by Waupaca-co authorities, according to reports received here today. Wright is believed to be accompanied by an unknown woman, who left with him immediately after the shooting.

McKay with several companions had gone to the Inn early in the evening and while they were sitting around a table there, it is alleged that Wright walked to the door of an adjoining room, reached through for a gun, returned and shot McKay in the right knee. McKay is still confined to Christopherson hospital, Waupaca, where his leg was amputated last Thursday. The shot entered the knee and ankle, badly lacerating the limb.

ARREST MAN HERE FOR JUNEAU-CO OFFICIALS

Ivan Kohn, 28, Randolph, was arrested about 6 o'clock Sunday evening on a warrant charging him with absconding a board bill in Juneau-co. The arrest was made by Sergeant John Duval and Kohn was held until Monday at the local police department when he was turned over to Juneau-co officials.

STRIKE IN URUGUAY

Montevideo, Uruguay (AP)—The street car system was the only public mode of transportation in operation here today during a 24-hour general strike.

The strike was called in protest against the imprisonment of anarchists charged with the murder of a bus guard. Taxicabs and busses halted at midnight, and the sympathy strike of news vendors caused newspapers to suspend publication today.

LEAVES THIS WEEK ON TRIP TO SCOTLAND

Albert Ogilvie, of the zoology department of Lawrence college, returned Saturday from Chicago where he has been doing research work for the past five weeks at the University of Chicago. Six Perish When Huge Airplane Falls In England

Three Title Society Folk Among Victims of Disaster Near Gravesend

London—(AP)—Six persons, including Sir Edward Ward and Lady Edna, daughter-in-law of the Earl of Rutley, were killed this afternoon when a Junkers airplane of the Walcott Air Lines Limited, crashed at Meopham, four miles south of Gravesend.

Lieut.-Col. L. P. Henderson, the pilot, was killed.

The official passenger list had not been made known early this evening but there seemed little doubt that at least three titled society folk had perished, among them the only two women aboard.

Because of the nature of the disaster itself it was virtually impossible to identify the victims.

Sir Edward was the leader in measures taken by the British for the comfort of American troops in the war. He was the organizer of the "Fireless Friendship" improvement in England for the United States flying fighters.

Witnesses said there was a terrific roar. The wings separated from the cabin and the fuselage, containing the passengers, fell straight down while the other parts of the machine floated off some distance.

One wing came to earth two miles from the scene of the crash.

The second pilot, whose name was believed to be Shearing, was one of the victims.

The plane, a biplane, did not catch fire. It was said the machine belonged to the Henderson Flying Bureau, of which the dead pilot was head, and had been lent to the Walcott company as traffic from Le Touquet today was particularly heavy.

Today's crash was the second in European commercial air service in recent days. On July 7 a German flying boat in the Stettin-Kalmar, Stockholm service was killed down in the sea near Bornholm and was swamped by heavy seas. Two Americans lost their lives. They were Dr. John L. Burkholder of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., and Miss Ruth Patricia Northrup of Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Northrup's body was recovered last week.

TAKE TESTIMONY IN $1,750 DAMAGE SUIT

Testimony was taken in circuit court before Judge Edgar V. Werner Monday morning in a suit for $1,750 brought by Henry Onkels, Appleton, against Mrs. Mary Krueger, who operates a rooming house on N. Morrison st. Onkels claims he loaned the money to Mrs. Krueger in 1925 and 1929 while he was a roomer at her home. He also says he never secured any security or receipts for the money. Mrs. Krueger claims Onkels never loaned her any money and she asks dismissal of the suit.

Onkels was a suitor and became troublesome.

The case was expected to go to the jury Monday afternoon.

This is one of three cases which have been set for trial this week at special session of the March term of circuit court.

MRS. SNOWDEN'S TEA MAY PROVE OF REAL IMPORTANCE

Woman Brings Harmony Between Factions of Labor and Liberals

BY MILTON BRONNER

London—Just as a certain Boston Tea Party given by angry American colonials helped to change the course of history and give the world the United States, so a certain tea party given by Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the Socialist chancellor of the exchequer, may in after-years come to be recognized as having influenced the entire future political history of Great Britain.

Already keen observers are attributing to this clever woman the following tangible results:

An unwritten pact between the Labor and the Liberal parties.

A union to fight a powerful protective tariff movement.

A union to change the electoral laws of the country.

A cessation of hostilities between Premier MacDonald and David Lloyd George, leader of the Liberal party.

When the last Parliamentary elections were held, the state of the parties in the House of Commons was found to be: Labor, 287 seats; Conservatives, 260; Liberals, 59.

The enormous Conservative majority had been swept away. Stanley Baldwin, Tory premier, resigned and the king sent for Ramsay MacDonald to form the second Socialist ministry in Britain's history.

But MacDonald had to walk carefully. Any time the Liberals united with the Tories, they could turn the Socialist out. They had done it six years ago. They could do so again. This made Lloyd George a sort of Warwick, whose party, though small, held the balance of power. And "Ramsay Mac" and "L. G." were not on the best of terms.

This hostility went on until not long ago, when an important issue in the cabinet split the Liberals united with the Tories and defeated it. It was not a vital matter, but it was a definite warning to the government.

And just about the same time Lords Beaverbrook and Rothemann, after a thumping campaign in their newspapers, forced upon leader Stanley Baldwin the adoption by the Tories of a protective tariff policy. Now the Labor party, like the Liberals, this always been more or less a free trade party and free trade is a tradition deeply seated in the British heart.

That is where Mrs. Snowden entered upon the scene. Though her husband is a rigid and unbending Socialist, he and L. G. are close and affectionate friends. So Mrs. Snowden gave a tea party at which L. G. was one of the guests. Others were prominent Labor politicians.

And at once things began to happen. L. G. and Ramsay MacDonald no longer glare at each other. They almost beam. When Snowden produced his budget, L. G. gave it his blessing in one of the wittiest speeches of his life and, incidentally, took the hide off the former Tory chancellor, Winston Churchill, who had once been his right-hand man.

The Liberals are preparing to help Labor put over all kinds of progressive legislation, so long as it is not radically Socialist. This means a considerable lease of life to the Labor government.

It means that the Liberals united with the Tories to turn Ramsay Mac out.

INCREASE LIBERAL REPRESENTATION

And it means that later on, Labor and Liberals will unite on some form of law that will change the methods of elections in Great Britain. In the last election the Tories and the Socialists each polled something over eight million votes and got a very large number of seats, whereas the Liberals polled something like five million votes and only got a scant 59 seats. Lloyd George wants a law that will give Liberals a representation more nearly in accord with their voting strength in the country.

Some such law will be worked out. It will further decrease the chances of the Tories to regain power.

The woman who is responsible for so much of this is one of the keenest politicians in Britain. She is more than that. She is the right arm of her husband who was left a permanent cripple by bad malaria accident years ago. Like him, she loves books. Like him, she is good on the stump.

On her own she has visited foreign countries and written good books about them. Incidentally, Queen Mary is very fond of her.

STORM CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE IN VICINITY

New London, Shiocton and other cities in the western part of Outagamie-co and eastern part of Waupaca-co.

Most of the telephone company damage also was repaired by Monday noon. Repair crews were sent out immediately after the storm.

WILLIAM KOEHNKE, Sr., town of Grand Chute, who was driving toward home as the storm approached, hurried to get his car in the garage before the storm struck. He had just driven the machine in the garage when the wind uprooted a huge tree next to the garage and it crashed down on the garage, crushing both the building and Koehnke's car. A car owned by a hired hand on the Koehnke farm was standing at the base of the tree which was knocked over. As the tree crashed it carried into the air its roots and which was matted the car on which the car stood. The rear end of the machine was raised into the air but it was removed to the ground before the car tipped over.

A garage at the residence of Robert Rohm, N. Alvin st., was damaged by the wind.

A group of small buildings, including a garage and chicken coop on the Arthur Downer farm on Highway 47, north of the city limits, were blown down during the storm.

Construction work on the buildings was started last week ago. Other small barns and farm buildings also were damaged by the wind in the neighborhood of Mackville and Black Creek.

SEE SOME RELIEF

A little relief is in sight during the next 24 hours, the weather man says. Skies will be clear but the mercury is due for a small drop, he forecasts.

Similar predictions have been issued throughout the middlewest for the next 24 hours. Winds are shifting in the southwest and west.

At 6 o'clock Monday morning the mercury had dropped to 62 degrees above zero.

An attempt to determine the temperature in the rays of the sun Sunday afternoon was frustrated when the thermometer used to make the test failed to register higher than 130 degrees above zero. The attempt was made by Alfred Coles, who resides at the intersection of W. Spencer and S. Mason sts. Mr. Coles placed the thermometer out on his lawn, and watched the mercury rise to 130. It couldn't go any farther.

NEW LONDON SUFFERS

Damage amounting to thousands of dollars was incurred by farmers in this vicinity through leveled fields of grain and demolished buildings. The greatest damage was done in Waupaca-co, where silos and many other small buildings were blown down.

On a farm owned by George Nelson of Gillette, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Genske, the wind tore off a steel roof on a large barn filled with the year's crop of hay. Only a few strips of the roof remained, the balance being scattered for a half mile through low lands to the south-east. Hay in the barn was covered by the rain.

The wind crashed in a kitchen door of the residence, moving a heavy kitchen range completely about, and tearing the linoleum into shreds. Another building used as a machine shed on an adjoining farm, belonging to the same owner was leveled.

The silo at the farm of Mrs. William Hoag was destroyed and other buildings damaged. At the Dalhousie farm on County Trunk X a large machine shed was flattened.

The family car owned by the farmer, which was housed in the building, was only slightly damaged by the crash.

Trees were blown across highway 54 and traffic was temporarily routed over County Trunk X.

CLEAR ROAD OF TREES

Through the quick work of the highway commissioner traffic was held up only a half hour by trees falling at Phillips bridge and at the John Jennings farm.

More than a score of trees bordering Bear Lake on Highway 22, two miles from Manawa, were uprooted by the wind and thrown across the roadway. A tree fell across a cottage, crushing in the roof, and a silo at the Carey farm was wrecked. Telephone service and power lines were completely wrecked between New London and Manawa.

The fire department was called to the Elwood Brewer farm, near Mosquito Hill. During the storm where a windmill had fallen against the residence severing high tension wires. There was no fire.

Mosquito Hill property owners suffered losses when many trees were uprooted or broken off. Wind here did considerable damage to corn and grain. Farmers state that corn will partially regrow itself, but not sufficiently to allow further cultivation.

COTTAGE BLOWN DOWN

The summer cottage owned by Rufus and Donald Dey on the Wolf river, was blown down and badly wrecked. The cottage was recently completed. A partially erected house, owned by Christ Colvitz on S. Wymann st., was completely wrecked. A flock of chickens owned by Milton Kabel, Jennings Heights, was released when the coop was swept away. Many trees were broken throughout the city with considerable damage to wiring.

E. E. Cousins, an employee at Springvale Golf course, ran to shelter to a shed located on the course. He had no sooner reached shelter when the wind removed the entire roof over his head. He was unhurt.

Oak and elm trees near the Jost cottage were broken and a way had to be cut through to reach the cottage on the bank of the Wolf river. The cottage was intact with huge trees broken all about it.

An oak tree near the Polzin residence, New London, was snapped off 12 feet above the base. Falling branches narrowly missed the house.

Hits Blue Law

Mrs. Pennola Jones, 63, "grandma mayor" of Lake Milton, Ohio, is ready to sweep the town clean of crime, but she hasn't any use for reformers who oppose Sunday dancing.

Her first official act was to lift the official ban on dancing on that day, and what's more she says she'll show the young folks "how to step."

Chicago—(AP)—The law shook an angry fist at endurance this-and-thatters today and shouted up at young Chicago to come down out of the tree.

There was a conference called today between juvenile and probation officers to see what could be done. Meantime the department of health was beginning to get worked up about the business.

While the law was unwinding its red tape with a view to lassoing the tree sitters, at cetera, the beaming sun was beating them to it, driving the enduring adolescents from the tree tops and into the comparative coolness of their homes.

The health department announced that the tree-sitting contests were apt—if carried too far—to result in physical breakdowns if not actually breakage. It pointed out that permits from the department are necessary of public exhibitions in which life and limb are endangered.

The law had a trump—the curfew ordinance—which requires that children up to the age of 17 must be off the street between 10 p. m., and 6 o'clock a. m. One argumentative course the sitters pretended to see a flaw in this, in that a tree sitter off the street when he's tree-sitting. Whether or not this argument will put the law up a tree remains to be seen.

Numerous complaints have been made. Some people, observing tree-sitters slipping down from their perches in the dead of night, taking a rest, have been frightened, believing burglars were at large. Other sitters, possessed of bulky lunge, have snored so powerfully as to annoy the light-sleeping public. In the case of some bicycle endurers, the refueling crews have quit, and the riders have circled the blocks in the night time, yelling with much gusto for victuals and such.

Tuesday afternoon the Dixie Merry Maids will feature the program with musical numbers.

ARREST TWO APPLETON BOYS FOR CAR THEFT

Two Appleton boys, 14 and 15 years old were to be taken into custody Monday afternoon to answer charges of stealing an automobile owned by Theodore Besore, 248 N. Second st. The pair took the car, a Buick roadster, from its parking place on W. Lawrence st. Sunday evening and was arrested at about 10 p. m. at Waverly beach by Sergeant John Duval, who also recovered the car. One of the boys was recently in juvenile court on a charge of larceny and was paroled.

HEAT AND ACCIDENTS CLAIM 17 LIVES IN STATE OVER SUNDAY

atures today would likely equal those of yesterday when marks of 100 degrees or better were the rule rather than the exception.

Four persons died in the Calumet region in Indiana, over the week end.

Walter Bolek, spending his honeymoon here, drowned in a swimming pool.

A survey of the 45 states amounted, in essence, to the simple grammatical job of comparing an adjective—hot, hotter, hottest, Columbus, Ohio, with an official 112 degrees, rated the superlative. Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia saw red in their thermometers at 106 or better.

Officials readings of 100 degrees or higher were taken in the states of Ohio, Michigan, Maryland, West Virginia, Kansas, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Arizona, California and in the District of Columbia. If readings of 98 were included, it would add the states of Pennsylvania, Texas, Tennessee and Oklahoma.

STORMS BRING RELIEF

The northwest, which has had its fill of hot weather this season, gained relief yesterday when several wind and rain storms swept sections of that country. The fortunate few in Michigan's upper peninsula, sandwiched between Lakes Superior and Michigan, enjoyed temperatures in the upper sixties.

The heat wave will be broken late today or tonight in a large part of the north central states, the Chicago forecaster prophesied. Predictions for Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Illinois carried such encouraging phrases as "somewhat cooler," and "seasonable temperatures." The break in the heat had penetrated into western Iowa last night.

The double damage of heat and drought was noticed in many grain states. In Iowa, particularly, the dried corn threatened serious loss to farmers unless benevolent rains fell soon. An unofficial observer in Iowa reported finding top soil in corn fields at a temperature of 144 degrees.

The Iowa corn loss, some agriculturists estimated, already amounts to one bushel an acre, and if the drought extends much longer the estimated loss will be doubled, they said.

William Clapper, president of a corporation operating five canneries in Iowa, said the state's crop for canning, including sweet corn, has been damaged 20 to 30 per cent.

Ohio and Kansas, as well as several southern states, face crop loss unless showers soon supplant the sun.

THREE DIE IN MARYLAND

Baltimore, Md.—(AP)—Three deaths and a score of prostrations in Maryland were blamed on the heat today as thermometers early gave indications that yesterday's record breaking temperatures would be surpassed.

A clerk on his way to work this morning dropped dead as the mercury at 9 o'clock had passed the 90 degree mark. Another man died from a broken back received yesterday while swimming, and a third man apparently crazed by the 96-degree heat of Hagerstown jumped fully clothed into the Potomac river and was drowned.

Washington-co, where yesterday temperatures ranging from 102 to 107 degrees were registered, reported 15 prostrations, while Baltimore had five today. Hagerstown yesterday recorded 107 degrees.

Washington—(AP)—The capital today began another lap of its endurance contest with the sun. At 8 o'clock the thermometer registering 81 at 9 o'clock. That was six degrees warmer than 9 o'clock yesterday when the mercury soared to a record high of 105.6.

The mercury had climbed to 100 by noon. Weather bureau officials said there was a possibility the record high temperature established yesterday might be exceeded.

RELIEF DUE IN EAST

New York—(AP)—With cooling thunder showers still in the offing, New York city and state encountered a third successive day of sweltering heat and humidity, with the temperature hovering at 90 degrees.

The weather man said rain was due at about 10 p. m. At 8 o'clock it was three degrees warmer this morning at 8 o'clock (E. S. T.) in New York city than yesterday, but throughout the rest of the state the mercury was from two to ten degrees higher.

KAUKAUNA YOUNG MAN CHARGED WITH THEFT

Herman Grisman, 20, Kaukauna, was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Saturday on a charge of larceny. Grisman was arrested at Kaukauna Saturday by Police Chief R. H. McCarty on complaint of James Thermo, who claimed the young man took $125 from his safe. Thermo reported a lunch started and billiard ball. Part of the money was recovered. Grisman was bound over for trial on July 23. As he was unable to furnish bonds of $500 he is being held in the county jail.

2 ARTERIAL JUMPERS FINED $1 AND COSTS

Two drivers, charged with jumping arterial, paid fines of $1 and costs each when they pleaded guilty of charges against them in municipal court before Judge Theodore Berg Monday morning. The two were Mrs. John Miller, 517 N. Bateman st., and J. C. Donnelly, 731 E. Eldorado st. Both were arrested by Sheriff John Lappen at the corner of Oneida and Lawrence sts. F. C. Hyde, 515 E. Washington st., arrested at the same corner on a criminal charge, is to appear in court later.

MARTIAL LAW RULES MEXICAN STATE AS RESULT OF RIOTING

One Slain, Five Stabbed as Mob of 700 Engages in Free-for-all

El Paso, Texas—(AP)—A virtual state of martial law was maintained in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, today to prevent recurrence of sanguinary rioting which accompanied the state election in Juarez yesterday.

One man was slain, five were stabbed and a policeman was injured seriously before order was restored. A mob of 700 in which women were conspicuous engaged in hand to hand fighting in one Juarez precinct.

Juan Zaldivar, 35, was fatally wounded when a man, said to have been a Socialist partisan, fired into a truck loaded with members of the national revolutionary party.

Charged with demonstrating against the administration, 23 members of the Socialist league of resistance were incarcerated.

Order was restored when the national revolutionary party officers, who composed the dominant Juarez administration, took over the polls shortly after Zaldivar was slain.

Election of Andres Ortiz, prominent engineer and contractor of Chihuahua City as governor, was conceded by followers in Juarez of Manuel Prieto, rival candidate. They insisted, however, that their right to vote was denied and plan to protest to the federal government claiming unfairness and coercion by police.

Dispatches from Chihuahua City, the capital, said the city had been without disorders. General Matias Ramos, under secretary of war, who virtually placed the state under martial law when he took command of the Fifth Military zone Saturday, was given credit for the quiet election at the capital.

Immediately after the rioting in Juarez, several hundred members of the Socialist party gathered in the plaza under the watchful eyes of mounted squads of soldiers and police. Antonio Corona, and other leaders, addressed the crowd declaring members of the Socialist party were being denied their rights as Mexican citizens.

Corona, stormy figure in Chihuahua politics, was defeated in his race for the state legislature from the Juarez district by Arturo M. Flores, brother of Gustavo Flores, mayor of Juarez.

MISSER ALPHONSE BROENS

Msgr. Alphons Broens, 67, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning at Manitowish after an illness of about three months, according to word received here. He was born at Meert, Holland, and was ordained 44 years ago. He had been pastor of St. Joseph church, Sturgeon Bay, for the past 43 years. Msgr. Broens was instrumental in bringing the White Fathers to America and establishing St. Norbert college, De Pere, over 30 years ago. When he was a boy, Judge Berg also said that if Young had been arraigned under the city ordinance instead of the city ordinance, that he would have been sent to jail instead of being permitted to pay a fine. A defendant cannot be sent to jail under the city ordinance unless he does not pay his fine. Young was arrested at his home about 8:30 Sunday morning by Officer George Harkness.

Roland Koleska, 1218 N. Superior st., was arraigned in municipal court Monday morning on a similar charge and hearing of the case was set for July 22. He was unable to furnish $100 bonds and is being held in the county jail. The records show Koleska has been in court several times on similar charges. He was arrested on N. Appleton-st about 12:30 Monday morning by Officer Alfred Goshka.

ACTUAL PRICE OF GOLD HAS DROPPED WITH OTHER METALS

Gold Follows Supply and Demand Despite "Fixed" Price

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Washington —(CPA)—The "real" price of gold has gone down in conformity with the trend in other non-ferrous metals, although the quotation remains at $20.67 an ounce, where it has held since it became the real monetary standard of the world. This is confirmed by advices received by the bureau of mines, the department of commerce and the treasury department. It has been found that gold follows the law of supply and demand, even though its price is "pegged."

The nations of the world have enough gold, not only for coinage and currency requirements but for reserve behind issues of paper currency. Not a single nation on a gold basis needs more gold at the moment.

The volume of business all over the world has fallen off compared with a year ago. As business increases, the amount of money in circulation increases. This necessitates a large number of gold coins in circulation and a larger amount of gold metal, usually kept in ingot form, to guarantee the increase in issues of paper money. Conversely, when business is dull in any country, the amount of money in circulation declines and it is not necessary to have so much gold in reserve.

COST INCREASES

The cost of producing gold has increased in the last 15 years. Wages of miners are higher and materials used in mining cost more. The mining industry has not been able to compensate for this added expense by an increase in the price of the metal, since its value is arbitrarily fixed. Consequently, many gold properties which formerly were profitable no longer pay to work. The deposits of every rich gold ore have been depleted. There still is an enormous amount of low grade ore but this necessitates expensive treatment

CIRCUIT SYSTEM CHECKS PLANES ALONG AIRWAYS

Reports on Arrivals, Departures and Delays Are Available to Pilots

Washington —(AP)—A system of reporting the progress of aircraft flying over government airways has been started by the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce.

Automatic telegraph typewriter circuits, which collect current weather conditions on an hourly basis, and airway radio stations are utilized for the system.

Available to any aircraft operator or pilot upon request, the service includes reports of arrivals, departures, aircraft passing over designated stations and aircraft "considerably delayed."

Upon departure of a plane along a government airway, a message is dispatched to fields along the route and the destination.

Look-outs are posted at various stations and a "plane-over" report is placed on the circuit as the aircraft passes each point. Failure of a plane to arrive over a station in scheduled time enables searching parties to direct Lums for lost aircraft along limited parts of the route.

Circuits which carry the automatic service extend along the airways from New York to San Francisco, from San Diego to Portland, Ore., from Richmond, Va., to Boston, and from Akron, O., to Omaha, by way of Louisville and St. Louis.

Broadcasting stations authorized to transmit position reports are located at Seattle and Pasco, Wash.; Fort Worth, Tex.; Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla.; Wichita, Kan.; Lincoln, Neb.; Atlanta, Ga., and Spartanburg and Greensboro, S. C.

BUBBLERS USED TO TEST WING BEAMS' STRENGTH

Madison —(AP)—"Soap bubbles" are used by experts in the United States forest products laboratory here to determine the amount of twisting a wing beam will undergo before crumbling.

A German physicist discovered that a slightly inflated soap bubble over a cross-section of the beam might be made a direct measure of the beam's twist resistance.

Engineers spent months developing a bubble material that would not break easily. Instead of breaking expensive model beams by applying twist pressure, they used aluminum plates, the same shape and size and with the same holes as a cross section of the wing beam to be tested.

They swept the bubble film over the holes, inflated them slightly, then measured the volume of air bubble down to one-thousandth of an inch. Resistance of each shape to within four per cent.

Generally speaking, women are pretty and they are pretty general speaking.

UNRELIABILITY OF TALKIE CONFESSION SHOWN BY EXPERT

Points Out That Film May Be Changed Easier Than
Legal Document

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

Hollywood — (CPA) — Testimony aimed at the reliability of the first talkie confession, a device inaugurated some months ago by the Philadelphia police and admitted as evidence in a Philadelphia court, has been requested by Roy J. Pomeroy, associate producer at the R. K. O. studios, who is internationally famous as a camera technician. The request came from John H. Lord, Jr., a Philadelphia attorney whose client's replies under police questioning were recorded on a talkie film.

The purpose of the talkie record was to prove in court that no compulsion had been used by the police upon the prisoner, as well as to prevent the prisoner from denying his words afterward. At the time when the Philadelphia talkie confession was made, Mr. Pomeroy's comment upon it to this correspondent, declaring a talkie confession could so easily be twisted, edited, and expanded in the hands of a film expert as to make the innocent confess on celluloid to any crime in the calendar.

While not implying that the film in question had been altered, Mr. Pomeroy said the ease with which such a film could be changed made it in his opinion thoroughly unreliable. Attorney Lord, reading this statement in a Philadelphia newspaper, has entered into correspondence with Mr. Pomeroy.

"To begin with," said Mr. Pomeroy, "a talkie confession is psychologically wrong. It is difficult enough for an accomplished actor to say what he intends to say before a talkie camera. For a suspect, under arrest, faced for the first time in his life by concentrated lights, camera apparatus, and the knowledge that his words are to be mechanically recorded, the chances of his saying what he means or even being able to think of what he wants to say, are slim."

"In the second place, it is so simple to ask a leading question, then fire a different question, prevent the follow-up question from being recorded on the film, catch the answer of the suspect to the follow-up question, and make it appear on the record that he was answering the leading question all the time. As a matter of fact, he would be answering a question not recorded in the talkie. It might place him in the same spot as the man who had to reply yes or no to the query: 'Have you stopped beating your wife?'"

Asked whether the possibility of faking confession talkies is greater than the possibility of forging written instruments, Mr. Pomeroy said: "Films can be forged much more easily than legal documents. They can be cut, mended, and amended so that even an expert would be in doubt as to whether any tampering had been done. If talkies are to be used by the police for recording confessions, they should adopt a film with some kind of continuous pattern running through it, like a bank note, so that any cutting or patching up will be discernible under the microscope."

"CANCER"
If July 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 10:15 a. m., 2 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from 6 p. m. to 7:30 a. m. and 5 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Astrological influences on this date will bring mental and spiritual discontent, which in turn may cause a much needed "kicking over the traces" and the desired freedom from restraining shackles. A good time for philosophical and scientific studies.

The child born this July 21 will have the much desired emotional and mental balance. Its eyes will image the world as a camera does, so keen will its powers of observation be. It will be born with a good business sense and will have a streak of economy in its nature.

It cannot be said that you do not have an active mind; it is full of thoughts and ideas, but you are afraid to express them. A lack of self-confidence prevents you from doing many things which you long to do and of which you are capable. You do yourself injury to suppress your thoughts so much; to permit poisonous thoughts to enter the subconscious mind and then to suppress the force of will the natural action resulting therefrom, is the quickest road to nervous disease and unhappiness. You permit envy, jealousy and hatred to smoulder within you, until a time of spontaneous combustion arises which does much more harm to you and others than you realize.

You are very restless and you must be moving from place to place, or from thought to thought — you never stay out. You must have diversity, outlets for your nervous energies and you will succeed only in a life of change. Being very sensitive, nervous and highly strung, you are too much swayed by the thought sphere of others.

You are ambitious, but it is chiefly a mental ambition for refinement and better conditions. You are not a genius for making or spending money and no matter how large your income, you would always be "broke."

You are a poor buyer, and are many times "done" by ruthless salesmen. You are truly generous and kind to those who ask your sympathy or aid and on the impulse of the moment you give in excess of your means or strength.

Beauty Is Its Own Excuse for Being Raided

If, as Earl Carroll, Broadway theatrical producer, declared in court, "Beauty knows no law," the footlights charmers pictured here ought to be quite beyond the reach of charges such as were made the other day that they were taking part in "an indecent show." But apparently Carroll was wrong, since some of his "world's most beautiful girls," as well as himself and a comedian from the "Vanities of 1930" were hauled into court, where they played to standing room only. Shown above, left to right, are Dorothy Britton, Faith Bacon, the fan dancer, and Eileen Wenzel. Below are Betty Veronica, left, Irene Ahlberg, center and Kay Carroll.

Social Life Quickens As Mrs Hoover Recovers

BY DOROTHEA J. LEWIS
(Post-Crescent's Washington Society Editor)

Washington—The First Lady's return to health was almost immediately followed by her return to entertaining and her first entertainment in several months was a particularly gracious one.

Last Wednesday, President and Mrs. Hoover were hosts to a garden party for the disabled veterans of the World War from both military and naval branches. The veterans were received on the beautiful south lawn of the White House, and the Gray Ladies of Water Reed hospital assisted at the party.

The Marine Band played and refreshments were served in the garden, from under bright, striped marquees.

The President and Mrs. Hoover were assisted in receiving by members of the cabinet and their wives, and presentations were made by the white-clad, summer-uniformed naval and military aides to the president.

The Gray Ladies are a group of socially prominent women who first banded together during the war in an effort to cheer and help the soldiers at Walter Reed. The organization has continued and flourished. This entertainment is in annual affair, having been a very special event on the White House program since the war, when the Wilsons began it.

HOUSE DISARRANGED

The White House program has been badly disarranged during this year, through months of official mourning, and illness, and many receptions simply did not take place. Next year will probably be very gay.

BLAINE RETURNS

Senator John J. Blaine returned to Washington Monday after a short but pleasant rest at his home in Bosconob. Mrs. Blaine is remaining in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Henry Surdam, daughter of Mrs. George Barnett and the late General Barnett, formerly of Bosconob, is sailing from Europe to rejoin her husband here. Later in the summer they will go to Wakefield, the Virginia estate of Mrs. Barnett. Mrs. Barnett is now in Europe, visiting another daughter and other relatives.

Miss Marian Marsh, sister of Dr. Charles Marsh, formerly of Green Bay, left Washington, where she has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, for her home in Chicago on Saturday. She is a member of the World Service Bureau of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Mary Marsh is remaining with her son and daughter-in-law for another month or so. Both Mrs. Marsh and Miss Marsh returned to Washington with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh at the completion of their recent motor tour of Wisconsin.

LA FOLLETTE AT STAG

Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr. of Madison, was one of a distinguished company attending the stag-luncheon on July 16 given by the Mexican ambassador, Senor Don Manuel Tellez, at the Embassy in honor of Senor Don Luis Morales de Oca, Mexican minister of finance, who is visiting this country.

Other well-known persons attending included the secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson; Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, the commissioner of the Mexican-American Claims commission, F. K. Nielsen; commissioner general of immigration, Harry E. Hull; and comptroller of the currency, J. W. Pole.

The newly appointed United States minister to Haiti and Mrs. Dana G. Munro, formerly of Madison, have returned from their trip through Jasper park in Alberta, Canada, and are now spending the remainder of their vacation quietly at the Munro summer estate near Metoxet, Waukegan Bay, Mass. Their three children are with them.

For the first time in 32 years, the envoy's father and mother, Professor Dana Carlton Munro and Mrs. Munro, are not staying at Metoxet for the summer. This year they are touring Ireland. Professor Munro, who is a member of the department of medieval history of Princeton university, was at one time connected with the faculty of the University of Wisconsin. She also writes for Science Service and a number of magazines.

Upon their return to Washington, Dr. and Mrs. Munro will close their home here and soon leave for Haiti.

Judge Leonard Kleeber of La Crosse visited friends in Washington during the past week and, of course, called on Frank Collier, also from La Crosse, who is postmaster of the house of representatives.

Miss Gwen Geach of Appleton, who works with the National League of Women Voters here as legislative secretary, has been kept very busy by the Naval treaty dealings "up on the hill," but she plans a Wisconsin trip soon, with a visit to Appleton included.

Miss Flora Orr, Washington newspaper correspondent for the St. Paul

News, and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, left Washington Saturday for Wisconsin. She will visit her mother in Mount Hope, Wis., for several days.

Miss Orr is an alumnae member of Beta Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary and professional journalistic fraternity, at the University of Wisconsin. She also writes for Science Service and a number of magazines.

BURGLARY ENDURANCE CONTEST IS LATEST

Kansas City—(CP)—In the wake of the others, comes the burglary endurance contest.

Forming hasty judgment, police gave the championship to Hooker Carter and Robert Higley found straining under the weight of a 200-pound anvil. They had already loaded a 14-inch bellows into a motor car.

The officers a few moments later admitted the award premature. They are willing to concede the title to whoever stole a 600-pound hammer from a contractor's pile driver.

MANY STATIONS ARE SEEKING PERMITS FOR GREATER POWER

Expect All of 51 Eligible
Groups Will Be Making
Application

MY ROBERT MACK

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Washington — (CPA) — A spruce rush of high powered stations all over the country for the highest allowable power of 50,000 watts is on, with the prospect that practically all of the 51 select stations eligible will file such claims.

Already all but 16 of the entire roster of "cleared channel" stations in one way or another, figure in a "superpower" situation in sharp contrast to the condition just a few months ago when a dozen were involved.

During the past few weeks some 15 applications for authority to tell such stations, with ranges which would cover broad sweeps of territory, have been filed with the Federal Radio commission.

This rush of applications was precipitated by the action of the commission a month ago restricting to 20 the number of cleared channels upon which 50,000 watt stations would be permitted to operate. It is not considered unlikely that the commission may later amend this ruling so that more, perhaps all, of the 40 cleared channels will be thrown open for super-powered stations.

The commission's action was designed to limit the number of high-powered transmitters in the country on an equitable basis, with 20 channels available for 50,000 watt stations in each of the five radio years.

MUCH COMPETITION

Instead it has opened a vigorous competition for the 19 remaining cleared channel assignments upon which 50,000 watt stations may operate under this same order.

On file now there are exactly 50 applications for construction permits for 50,000 watt transmitters from stations which now use 5,000 watts power or more. Actually licensed there are nine stations of this order of power, which rank, technically, as the best stations in the country. Six other stations hold permits authorizing them to build transmitters of the maximum output.

The latest 50,000 watt applications to be filed are from stations KVOO, at Tulsa, Okla., and WBT, at Charlotte, N. C. the latter recently acquired by the Columbia Broadcasting system. Other stations which recently filed such applications are WBZ, Springfield, Mass.; WMAQ and KYW, both in Chicago, WHAS, Louisville; WCAL, Philadelphia; KGO, Oakland; KNTN, Muscatine, Ia.; WHO-WOC, Des Moines and Wavenport, Ia.; WWJ, Detroit; WFBM, Indianapolis; an KWKH, Shreveport. In addition, stations WHAM, Rochester, N. Y.; WWO, Fort Wayne Ind., Wsm, Nashville; WSB, Atlanta, WRVA, Richmond, Va., WAPI, Birmingham, and WCFL, Chicago, also have applications pending.

Movie Stars Come From Many States In Union

BY DAN THOMAS

Hollywood—No matter where you were born there is a possibility that you may some day become a screen celebrity.

Proof may be found in a recent survey of the film colony which showed that 44 states and 30 foreign countries have given the American screen its popular players.

Of course, if this survey is to be taken as a criterion, the natives of some states are afforded better opportunities than those of others. If you were born in New York, for example, you have just about 10 times as much chance of reaching the sacred portals of moviemaking as if you first saw the light of day in Florida—New York being the birthplace of 104 celebrities while Florida claims only one, Evelyn Preer.

Other leading claimants for the title of "celebrity state" are California, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Texas. If named in order of their percentage, And England leads by a comfortable margin every other country. Coming to the states we find that New York City and Los Angeles rank first and second.

New York, with its 104 players, is nearly twice as many as California, which ranks second with 59. New York's leadership is easily understood, however. Its population is more than that of any other state, and the proximity to Broadway and many New York opportunities demand others.

Among the most prominent of those who hail from the eastern state are Jean Arthur, Clara Bow, Richard Barthelmess, Joan Bennett, Henry Bruce, Eddie Cantor, Nancy Carroll, Ruth Chatterton, John Collier, Marion Davies, Bette Davis, Sylvia Diers, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Edward Everett Horton, Helen Kane, Lila Lee, Jack Mulhall, Chester Morris, Anna Pace, Norma Talmlade, Helen Twelvetrees and Louis Wolheim.

Jumping from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific coast we find California, home of the film industry, in second place with 59 natives claiming it as "home." Outstanding among them are William Bixby, Lina Basquette, Bernice Claire, Lucille Webster Gleason, Lawrence Gray, Mary Kornman, Davy Lee, Dorothy Lee, Edmund Lowe, Mary McAlister, Carmel Myers, George O'Brien, Dorothy Royler, Lawrence Tibbett and Robert Woolsey.

Returning to the middle west there is Illinois, whose 42 successful screen players gives it an easy third. Chief among the mare Sue Carol, Virginia Cherrill, Billy Dooley, Stuart Holmes, Norma Kennedy, Rod La Rocque, Polly Moran, Zelma O'Neal, Mary Philbin, Milton Sills, Martha Sleeper, Gloria Swanson, Blanche Sweet and Virginia Valli.

Pennsylvania is next in line, having sent 35 persons to Hollywood and fame. A few of them are George Bancroft, Eleanor Boardman, El Brendel, Lionel Barrymore, Dolores Costello, Janet Gaynor, Jeanette MacDonald, Thomas Meighan, Adolph Menjou, Regis Toomey and Lois Wilson.

Massachusetts is in fifth place with 37 celebrities. Among them are Walter P. Reilly, June Clyde, Cliff Edwards, Claude Gillingwater, Fred Kubler, Laura La Plante, Patsy Ruth Miller, Jack Oake, William Powell and Pauline Starke.

And in sixth place we find Ohio with 23 who have achieved fame via the nation picture route. Included among them are Warner Baxter, Richard Bosworth, Marion "Peanuts" Byron, Lillian Gish, Ralph Graves, Kate Harlan, Walter Miller, Elliot Nugent and Gertrude Signe.

WHITE SILK EVENING BAGS ARE FAVORED

New York — (CPA) — Paris still likes the oyster white, dull silk wrist bag for evenings, but nowadays she rather prefers crystals to seed pearls for trimming. The crystals are sewn all over the bag in an elaborate pattern, the completed effect being somewhat on the order of chandelier with a giant to its inside. The bag Paris carries, among other things, a tiny scent bottle because grandmother used to do so.

London has been captured by the fad for little finger rings made from antique buttons. Antique buttons being pretty plentiful throughout the continent, London has a choice of quaint gold buttons from Waterloo uniforms, jeweled buttons from Jacobean times, and the big silver buttons of the Elizabethan era.

Over 1,500 At Outing Of Churches

A crowd of more than 1,500 people attended the second annual picnic of Brotherhood of the Fox River Valley of United Lutheran Church of America Sunday at Menasha park. It is estimated that nearly 500 members and their families and friends from Appleton were present. Menasha, Oshkosh, and Fond du Lac were also well represented.

A joint service was held at 11 o'clock in the morning at the park in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the Augsburg confession. Dr. G. H. Gendler, Racine, preached the sermon. The pastors of the four churches represented took part in the service and the Menasha male choir sang.

A basket lunch was served at noon and a program of games and contests provided entertainment during the afternoon. A series of three ball games was played, Oshkosh winning the valley championship. The tug of war was won by Menasha. Special events were held for the children including sack races, a shoe race, a three legged race, and an egg carrying contest. A concert was given by the Menasha high school band.

In the evening a pageant, "The Magna Charta of Confessions," was presented by the St. Paul choir and a cast of 20 characters. This pageant will be shown at Green Lake where a Sunday school teachers' school is in session this week. Several people are expected to attend from Appleton.

LEVITAN BASES HIS CAMPAIGN ON RECORD

New Glarus—(AP)—In this southern Wisconsin village where he started 45 years ago as a pack peddler, Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, came back Saturday night to open his campaign for reelection. Basing his campaign on his eight-year record of "efficient administration," Mr. Levitan pointed out his methods of operation which has handled the treasury business "with a minimum expense to the state."

Mr. Levitan outlined the work in the treasury department which includes disbursements amounting to more than $184,000,000 a year, and said his work has been strictly impartial with "no favors granted to any bank and no politics allowed to enter into any transaction."

The treasurer endorsed Phil La Follette publicly when he said: "While I do not believe that a state treasurer should be chosen because of his political affiliations, I want to submit to the voters the fact that I have always been a Progressive and am supporting Philip La Follette for governor. I am proud of the fact that I was one of the early members of the Progressive movement in Wisconsin. I worked for the eldest Senator La Follette when he first ran for district attorney of Dane county. I supported him in his campaign for congressman, governor and senator. During his campaign for United States president I carried the fight for him right into Wall Street and stumped the eastern states for him. I know that his son Philip La Follette has inherited much of his father's ability and can be relied upon to carry forward the ideas the elder La Follette always held for Wisconsin."

BARGE RUNS AROUND

Sault, Ste. Marie, Mich.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Steamship company barge Jenny went aground a mile west of here last night during a severe wind and rain storm that whipped this section of the upper peninsula.

The wind ripped up trees by their roots, broke down garages and other small buildings and strewn the parks with broken limbs. Many accidents were directly attributed to the storm. Trunk line highways were blocked for several hours by fallen trees.

Will Wed Heir

Rumors of a romance between William B. Leeds, Jr., heir to the millions of the "tinplate king," and Miss Olive Hamilton, 24, above, former hotel telephone operator at Atlantic City, N. J., have been renewed since the two have been seen together there recently. Leeds was divorced from his first wife, the former Princess Xenia of Greece, last February.

Hints For The Shopper

When you buy a watch your only safeguard is in the character of the house from which you buy.

The mere appearance of a watch is no guide to its quality, because thinly plated cases may be made to look like solid gold. Nor is the name on a watch all the information a buyer needs to know. The name designates the make of a movement, not its quality; and the same-named movement may be priced anywhere from $8 to $175.

Of course, any reputable manufacturer will stand behind his $8 watch as well as his $175 product, but the buyer does not want to pay $175 for the $8 grade.

The responsibility for selling watches at higher prices can be laid to the retailer, for he knows exactly the quality of the watches he has purchased, where he might not be able to discriminate so nicely in buying such merchandise as hosiery or gloves.

Therefore, the shopper's main reliance must be in choosing a retailer whose merchandising integrity is unquestioned.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Sue Barbara had removed her ring on the hope that no one would tell Jean Brady that she was engaged. Sue looked at the girl with scornful eyes. She was a pink and white doll with golden curls, but no heart.

Sue threw her head a little higher and stepped away from the group. Then she excused herself and went into the dining room where the woman who helped her mother with the cleaning each week was now surveying the table, twisting a clean white linen apron into wrinkles as she did so. She smiled at Sue and went back to the kitchen.

A step sounded and Sue turned around. "I know what you've been commanded to do," Jack said in an easy voice. "Brady wants to sit next to Barbara, doesn't he? And Barbara has pretended that she forgot to put on her ring. Brady has money," he went on reflectively, "and Barbara needs it. I imagine the dinner will be interesting." His voice was rather hard and very tired.

"Jean Brady didn't know Barbara was engaged until I told him," Sue explained honestly. "And being near someone at dinner has about as much significance as . . . as typing a man's office letters."

"Humph!" He turned away and Sue caught a look of wounded pride and puzzled wonderment on his face. Then he came back. "I'm not apologizing for her any more, Sue. I was mistaken . . . terribly so. But I'm awake now. Only . . ."

"But you are engaged to her?" "Oh, no, I'm not. Not when I'm just somebody to play second fiddle. I'll let her go take the automobile industry . . . Oh, hang it all, Sue!" Suddenly his voice changed and he looked like a dejected, miserable little boy.

Sue put a comforting hand on his and held it tightly. "It will be all right," she said in a steady voice. Her own heart was singing a refrain. "He isn't going to marry Barbara! The magic of it deepened the rose flush on her cheeks; heightened the sparkle in her eyes; made her mouth curve in a smile that was lovely, intriguing, appalling . . ."

"Sue, you're adorable!" Jack's voice was a little husky. Then he was gone.

Sue started to hum a breathless catch of a song that didn't have any rhythm or any rhyme as she looked at the table.

"I believe that you are falling in love," the woman who did the cleaning told her, coming in to the room again.

"Oh, no," Sue answered. "Not at all." How could she fall in love, she mused, when she already was in so very deeply.

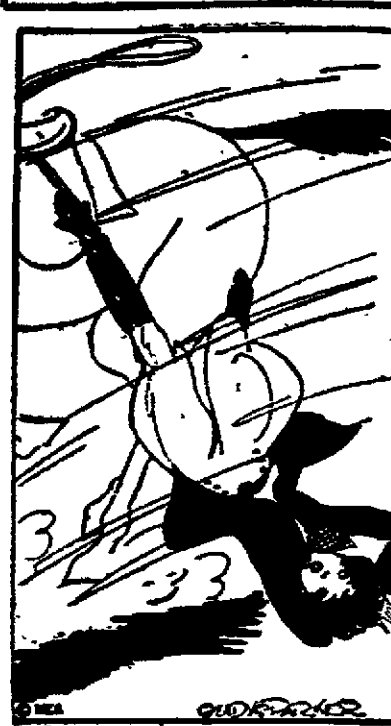

The conversation around the table drifted past and sometimes Sue caught a thread and followed it a little while. Plans for Grace's and Jimmy's wedding; that would be soon now. Plans for Corinne and Harry's house; for Ted's new position; for Sarah's settlement girls.

"You were mistaken, Miss Merryman," Jean Brady found an opportunity to explain to Sue before the evening ended. "Miss Andrews tells me that she and Mr. Thornton are not engaged."

WE WOMEN

By Betty Brainerd
LOVE THIEVES

A Boston newspaper (Boston was one of the center of American culture, you know) prints the following headline: RICH WIFE SOCKS LOVE RIVAL!

The story goes on to say that the lady who did the "socking" is suing the lady who "sucked" for $100,000 worth of "heart balm" and the last is suing her for assault. Altogether, it is a sordid mess.

I hope the lady who is suing doesn't get a cent and I think the "socked" lady would have enhanced whatever dignity remained to her in the situation if she had taken her "socking" without a whimper. Though her face was bruised, she could still have said, "Yes, I love your husband and he loves me. Won't you talk the whole thing over . . . and have tea?"

Most women, it appears, are incapable of being sensible in such a situation. The wife feels that she has been made a martyr and the other feels she is being deprived of the man she has come to love and who loves (or says he loves) her.

I am against that law which permits a woman to sue a man for breach of promise but frowns on a man who would invoke the same right. Murder is murder, whether it is committed by a man or woman. No crime should be determined on the ground of sex alone.

The breach of promise statute should be done away with altogether and the "heart balm" law stricken off the statute books. There never has been a case which involves either that did not reek with dishonesty and an offensively false sense of martyrdom. It is the woman who sues and sues.

I have no sympathy with those women who, having lost their husbands, weep and wail and occasionally "sock" and sue. They are martyrs, not has the love of their husbands been stolen from them, they all invariably imagine.

The truth is that they have been incapable of holding their love. They have been dull, or nagging, and unreasonable—utter failures as wives, although, men are just as often failures as husbands. These wives at the victims—not martyrs—of their own bad thinking and personalities.

A woman who has lost her husband's love can always solve her problem more effectively by making an amicable settlement with her husband—if necessary, through a lawyer—than she can by acting like an idiot. The trouble is that she won't give him up, even on decent terms. She prefers misery to reason and "heart balm" to checks at regular intervals.

CHANGE OF ENVIRONMENT
When a child has formed a poor habit and you have tried in vain to train him to put a good one in its stead, the very best thing to do next is to arrange for a change of environment.

You see when a child does something the action and everything associated with it is registered as a memory. Next time he is faced with the same situation, the same people, the same place, the same impulses, he will follow the memory trace and repeat the action. Before long any one of the associated facts will be enough to call up the response. Soon the habit needs no stimulation. The response is immediate and habitual.

Talking and punishment and rewards have little chance now. As long as the associations are constant the response is certain. The only escape is by way of new associations, a new environment. That is why a visit to a loved relative, a trip to distant places, a boarding school, a stay in the children's hospital, will work miracles in the habits of wayward children.

I knew a little girl who would not go to sleep until she had eaten a chocolate mouse placed under her pillow by a doting daddy. By and by the doctor said, "No mouse." The child said, "No mouse, no sleep." Nothing anybody could do or say helped in the least. "No mouse, no sleep," and there the matter rested until an old family friend carried her off to her distant home for a visit.

To the surprise of everybody the child went to bed with never a word about the mouse. There was nothing in the situation that called for the evening treat and it was not needed. After a month's stay the child went home. Instead of the old room of familiar memory she was placed in one on the other side of the house. No mention of the mouse.

A long time afterward, as children reckon time, the child was playing about in the old bedroom of mouse memory. "When I was a very little girl I used to find a chocolate mouse under my pillow in this bed," said she. "I guess there aren't any more. Anyway I'm too old for such things now."

Many a troublesome boy has gone away to a good school to return happily to his home at vacation times. Many a girl has been set right by a course in a fine school. Home is the best place for children only when they thrive there. If there are signs of trouble, if bad habits persist, if training seems in vain, try some other scheme.

Mothers need relief from trying children. Nobody knows what suffering lies in the day by day association with unruly, uncontrolled children. Save the mother by relieving both sides of the situation. Try a little healthy change. If the children cannot go from home let mother have time off instead. But the change is essential.

FEWER CARS REGISTERED IN STATE DURING JUNE

Madison—(P)—More than twice as many new passenger cars were registered during the same month this year, according to records of the secretary of state.

The statistics show that apparently no gain is being made in the automobile industry during the summer months of this year. The proportion of registrations during the first part of the year was approximately the same as at the present time.

In June, 1929 there were 6,354 new passenger automobiles registered by cities. During June, 1930 only 5,173 were registered. The total for the first six months of 1929 was 31,112. The same period this year saw only 24,065 new cars registered by cities.

The totals by counties show similar proportions. In June, 1929 a total of 13,656 new cars were registered but in June 1930 the number dropped to 6,782. The total for the first half of 1929 was 61,049 and for 1930 it was 48,658.

The commercial car registration report by cities show 697 cars registered in June, 1929 and 376 in June 1930. The six month total in 1929 was 3,755 while it was 2,934 for the same period this year.

A total of 1,711 new commercial cars were registered by counties in June, 1929 but the number dropped to 1,101 this year. The total at the end of the first six months of 1929 was 8,388 while this year it was 7,180.

50 MILK LICENSES OVERDUE IN APPLETON

Although the deadline for milk licenses was July 1, only 50 permits for the sale and distribution of milk and cream during 1930 have been obtained from Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. With almost 100 dealers in the city, Mr. Sanders will keep his office between 10 and 12 every morning next week to issue permits to the 50 who have not secured licenses.

BUSINESS SLUMPS IN STATE IN JUNE

Decrease of 1.7 Per Cent Compared With Same Month Year Ago Reported

Madison—(P)—Employment and business conditions in the state slumped during June as compared with a year ago, figures released today by the bureau of business information at the University of Wisconsin extension division show.

According to the bureau, a business decrease of 1.7 per cent was registered, but it adds, "In view of the considerably greater decline in general prices, it is quite likely that the actual physical volume of business has increased in Wisconsin June." Figures were based on bank debit figures collected by federal reserve banks from 10 cities.

In the west and northwest sections of the state, a general business decline of 1.2 per cent for June was shown, the bureau reports. Decreases were Ashland, 3.5 per cent; Chippewa Falls, 20.6 per cent; Eau Claire, 14.1 per cent; LaCrosse, 12.9 per cent, and Superior, 10.6 per cent. Hudson showed a 27.2 per cent gain.

The eastern part of the state showed only a decline for June of about one-half of one per cent, the bureau says, with cities showing as follows:

Green Bay, 2 per cent; Oshkosh, 5.4 per cent; and Sheboygan, 5.2 per cent. Milwaukee remained about even with June, 1929, according to the report.

Based on figures obtained at public employment offices in the state, the bureau figures that employment conditions were 29 per cent less favorable in June of this year than in the same month a year ago.

An increase in the use of the five-day working week in factories increased from 7 per cent to 19 per cent in eight months, the bureau reports.

"The policy of working short hours per day and per week, instead of reducing the number of employees carried on payrolls has been adopted by many factories during the current employment depression," the bureau quotes the state industrial commission as saying. "There has been no apparent general cut in wage rates, but average per capita weekly earnings are being reduced by part-time employment."

Class Of Girls Is Taught By Aviatrix At St. Louis

St. Louis—(P)—Mrs. May E. Lipp is a pioneer in a new field of teaching for women—aviation.

She has organized a class of women, and is teaching them the rudiments of flying. A veteran of flying experience herself, Mrs. Lipp has definite ideas of her own regarding the value of a woman's touch in the instruction of girl fliers.

"In a class of men" she says,

"almost all of them understand fundamentals of mechanics, and a girl has to ask questions that appear silly. Thus many women miss out on things they should know because of the fear of appearing dumb."

With an understanding of the woman flier's psychology, Mrs. Lipp says, "the only casualty was a broken tire."

instructors can make girls training easier.

Her own flying career began when she was a girl. Once she tried to make a parachute jump with a parasol, but the parasol collapsed and she landed in a bush, unhurt.

Five years ago she started training at Oklahoma City. Her husband also is an aviator.

Thus far Mrs. Lipp has had no accidents. Her most serious mishap was a forced landing because of a leaking gasoline line, but she was the only casualty was a broken tire.

People who can't afford a vacation can at least take on that far away look.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

Kim-Little Chute, 19, Appleton 17.
Kaukauna 11, Neenah-Menasha 10.

The group of staunch and sturdy baseball fans, who braved the excessive heat Sunday afternoon got their money's worth and then some out of the battle staged between the Kimberly-Little Chute nine, occupying the lowest berth of the Fox River Valley league ladder, and the Brandt Fords out at Augie Brandt's ball park.

Staggering in at the end of the ninth frame out of the heavy dust and heat which kept the mercury above 95 degrees, the Appleton nine found itself at the short end of a 19 to 17 score, after they had piled up a 12 to 2 lead in the early frames.

It was anybody's game after the Appleton nine lost its 12 to 2 lead at the end of the fifth inning. Pandemonium seemed to break loose, and the old horseshoe seemed to take wings, as it was pounded far out over the fence for eight home-runs, numerous doubles, and for about 40 singles.

One fracas was featured by eight home runs, the largest number of "over-the-fence" markers hit in any one game so far this year in valley league competition.

TORNOW HAMMERS THREE
"Sonny" Tornow, star second baseman for the Fords, came out of his somewhat idle stage of hibernation Sunday afternoon, and with the aid of his magic batting iron pounded three balls out of the lot.

SIX HURLERS TOIL
During the course of the afternoon's battle Sonny brought in six runs, and was credited with only three hits, each of them counting a homer. He was passed twice in the initial innings of the game, Vander Loop, Little Chute pitcher, giving him eight straight balls. Vander Loop weakened in the second, as the heavy artillery of Appleton batters came around Smith, Murphy, Torrey, Eggert and Hillman, each of the sluggers following each other.

"Baldy" Eggert started the ball rolling in the second frame by slugging out the first homer of the fracas with three men on giving the local aggregation a seven run lead after the second inning. The Fords were credited with five of their hits in the first frame.

The tide of battle turned against the Brandt nine after the sixth when "Lefty" Ritten, star Appleton hurler was taken from the game. Lefty is still suffering from a back injury. Lake went in to pitch in the sixth, and was pounded for four hits and four runs. Dats Crowe then took the mound, and stayed until the final frame. He allowed 12 hits and 12 runs.

The farmer's crowd staged its picnic in the seventh inning, when it garnered eight runs off four hits. They finished the eighth with two hits and two runs to tie the score, and then ended the game with four hits and three runs.

Six pitchers took the mound during the game, three for the Smith crowd, and three for the home aggregation. Vander Loop started the fifth for the Kim-Chuters, after which Poca took the mound for two innings. He was taken from the game, when the Fords pounded him for four hits and four runs in the seventh, and Farris, stoody south paw, took the mound. Farris gave the best demonstration of hurling for the Kimberly crowd although he was credited with five hits in the last two innings of the game.

Ritten and Poca each struck out three men, while Farris retired one Appleton batter via the "three-strike-easy-out" method. Lefty passed one on balls, while Crowe walked two. Vander Loop allowed two walks, Poca, one and Farris one.

The Appleton nine was credited with six errors, while the Kimberly-Little Chute nine had but one bad play.

Les Smith led the Appleton nine as far as errors was concerned. Some how or other, Les had an off day out in center field, and was unable to see the ball, partly because of the blazing hot sun. Two high flies, which under ordinary circumstances would have been caught without any trouble at all, bounced off his glove and were lost in the deep grass bordering the field.

Managed to keep up his side of the ledger, however, as far as hits and runs were concerned. The Appleton manager pounded out two hits, and was credited with two runs. He singled in the initial frame, and pounded the apple again in the seventh. He scored on both.

Poca was the outstanding slugger for the Lamars crowd. He was credited with two hits and four runs. Farris played far the better game, however, both on the mound and at the plate. He slammed out three hits, one of them a homer and the other two long singles. He also was credited with three runs.

"Bobby" Versteegen, new comer in to the ranks of Valley league baseball, got four hits and brought in three runs. The 19-year-old third baseman homered out one of the Chute's batters in the sixth frame, secured Farris and Poca. Poca had come to first on a single right after Farris was walking by Lake.

Babe Ruth Gets No. 34 But Cleveland Indians Defeat Yankees 9 And 8

Homers Feature in Nearly All Major League Games Played Sunday

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DDIE MORGAN of Cleveland won a game by a home run in the ninth yesterday. He slammed his eighteenth circuit blow of the season with one out and one on base to defeat the New York Yankees, 9 to 8, and to undo the work of those more famous home run hitters, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Ruth poked his thirty-fourth homer off Milburn Shoemaker, a perennial victim of the Ruthians drives, in the fourth inning. Gehrig hit his twenty-sixth a moment later and another in the next inning. Bib Falk gave Morgan something of a race for the place in the spotlight by hitting for the circuit.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

Monday—Brands vs. Co. D.
Tuesday—Bankers vs. Atlas Mill
Wednesday—Foresters vs. Valley Iron
Thursday—Co. D. vs. Printers
Friday—Legion vs. Brands

Co. D., Wisconsin National Guard softballers will set about making up postponed games in the National League Monday evening when they battle Augie Brandts Ford softballers up at Pierce park.

The game is creating more than usual interest because the Brands seem to have a strangle hold on the league pennant and the soldiers have even chance of bumping them off. Practically every team in the loop is pulling for the guards who, although missing from Appleton softball diamonds for the last two weeks are in tip-top condition.

Two weeks of strenuous softball at Camp Douglas have kept the soldiers in condition. They copied the 12th regiment softball honors last week, lost the camp title by a mere point, and beat the softball champs of Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wednesday evening.

Other games during the week will find the Bankers and Atlas Mill team battling it out Tuesday evening, and the Foresters and Valley Iron on Wednesday evening. Thursday night Co. D., again will get into action, this time against the Valley Iron ten, and Friday night the Brands will have their hands full stopping the legion.

MAC FARLANE WINNER OF METROPOLITAN TITLE

Elmsford, N. Y. (AP)—Willie MacFarlane of Tuckahoe, N. Y., is the new metropolitan open golf champion.

In a battle of former national open champions, MacFarlane beat Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., by two strokes yesterday in their 36-hole playoff of the tie in which wound up the regular 72-holes of championship play. All even at the end of the first 18 holes of the playoff, MacFarlane took a one stroke lead at the end of 27 holes only to see Farrell draw even at the twenty-ninth and into a one-stroke lead at the thirty-second. MacFarlane then evened the count with a birdie at the thirty-fourth and picked up a stroke on each of the last two holes to win with 142 to Farrell's 144.

MacFarlane held the open title in 1925 and Farrell in 1928.

MERCHANTS RALLY TO BEAT READFIELD

Appleton Club Now Leading Central Wisconsin League by Half Game

Appleton Merchants strengthened by the return of three players who have been soldiering for the last 15 days went out Sunday afternoon and downed Readfield in a Central Wisconsin league game at Wilson school grounds. The score was 5 and 4, and the win puts the Merchants at the top of the loop by a half game margin with a postponed frame to be played at some future date.

The Merchants counted three runs in the third inning when Laabs hit a home run with two mates on the paths. The rally tied the score at 3 all, the Readfield nine having counted twice in the second frame and once in the third.

Readfield took the lead with a single, won the fifth inning but saw it go glimmering when the Merchants pounded out a run in the sixth and another in the seventh.

BLUE LARKSPUR MAY SET NEW MONEY MARK

Chicago (AP)—Blue Larkspur, Col. E. R. Brady's 1929 three year old gelding, will have a chance to assume second place among the money-winning thoroughbreds of all time in the $55,000 Arlington handicap at 3:30.

After his impressive victory in the Arlington cup last Saturday, the four year old son of Black Servant, Bloomer Time had won $272,000, about $24,000 less than the total accumulated by Gallant Fox, three year old champion of the season.

Central Wisconsin Team Now Holds First Place in Valley Loop

Wisconsin Rapids—Wisconsin Rapids took undisputed lead in the Fox River Valley league as a result of a 9 to 1 victory over Green Bay here Sunday and Appleton's defeat. DICKINSON QUILTS AS BADGER COACH

U. W. End Mentor Retires from Sport to Practice Law in Chicago

Madison—Long rumored but not realized until this week, the resignation of Campbell Dickinson, head coach of the University of Wisconsin, presents a difficult situation to Head Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite.

Dickson, who made a distinguished record as a student of law at the University of Chicago, which he climaxed by passing the Illinois bar examinations with the highest grades given any candidate in twenty years, has become associated with a leading Chicago law firm and is definitely through with the coaching game.

He withheld his resignation here for some time at the request of the Wisconsin athletic authorities, who hoped that he might be able to secure a leave of absence which would permit him to handle the Badger program on more seasons. When this proved impossible, Dickinson resigned here, an action which the Badger athletic leaders endorsed as entirely proper in view of the exceptional opportunities offered by his new position.

Nick Cullop Has Chance To Set New A. A. Record

CHICAGO (AP)—If nothing occurs to keep Nick Cullop from playing centerfield for Minneapolis in the remaining 80 games of the season, one American Association record appears certain to be erased.

In 81 games the Miller veteran has driven out 30 home runs, leaving him just an even dozen shy of the league record of 42 set in 1921 by Bunny Brief of Kansas City. Cullop's home run-getting has not been spasmodic, except to the extent of scoring. He has batted right along, and at his present rate should easily eclipse the nine-year-old mark.

Number 30 for Cullop came yesterday and added materially in salvaging one victory in the Miller's four game set with their nearest rivals, the St. Paul Saints. Another homer, by Griffin, provided the winning run in the 10 to 5 victory, but Cullop's homer, two doubles and three runs were indispensable. The Saints outbit their adversaries, 14 to 8, but failed to cluster their blows as well.

COLONELS WIN TWO

Louisville came back to life in the two games of the weekend, defeating Toledo twice and raising its lead.

Columbus was at Louisville, today, while Minneapolis moved over to Milwaukee. Toledo was host to Indianapolis and Kansas City, leading the second place Saints as its guest.

FUELS RALLY AND DEFEAT SHERWOOD

Trail Until Last Two Innings When 11 Runs Are Pushed Over Plate

Notke Fuels, Appleton entry in the East Shore amateur baseball league thought more about the heat than baseball for seven innings Sunday afternoon, in a game at Sherwood and then staged a brilliant come back to cop a 12 and 10 victory.

Sherwood took a one run lead in the second frame and increased it to three in the fifth. The Fuels came to life with a single marker in the seventh but the villagers countered with seven big runs. The second seemed to stir the Fuels into action and they stepped out to coin five markers in the first half of the eighth.

A gallant finish in the ninth frame brought six more runs and a victory. The Fuels got 16 hits during the afternoon and knocked VanderZanden former Kaukauna pitcher, out of the box in the eighth.

RED DUNN SIGNS WITH BAY PACKERS

Former Marquette Star Will Again Call Signals for Green Bay Pros

Green Bay—Red Dunn has signed his packer football contract for the 1930 season. The former Marquette captain has changed his mind about hanging up the mokeskins and he will play again this fall at quarterback.

Dunn, who is on Milwaukee's greatest football team, made his professional football debut with the Milwaukee Badgers in 1924. The next two seasons he played with the Chicago Cardinals and then joined the Packers in 1927. It was Dunn's superb leadership last fall that helped save the way for Green Bay to the national championship.

Aside from Dunn, there are five other Packers who have signed their contracts. The veterans included in this list are Perry, Alabama tackle; Minnick, Iowa guard, and Darling, Beloit, center. The two recruits are Radack, Marquette, end, and Englemann, South Dakota State, half-back.

With the best home schedule ever arranged for a Green Bay eleven, football enthusiasm is beginning to stir here even though the season won't get under way until Sunday, Sept. 14. Applications for season tickets are already being received and applications for ducks to the games with the Bears, Philadelphia and New York are being filed.

According to present plans, the squad will be ordered to report here for the first practise on Sunday, Sept. 7.

VETERAN MANAGER

Bill Clymer, until recently manager of the Buffalo club in the International league, has managed Class AA teams for nearly 30 years. Over a period of 10 years in his career he won eight championships.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS YOUTH ELIMINATES SIMPSON IN FINALS

Association Championship Cup Awarded to Butte des Morts Club

R. C. BRAZEAU, 22-year-old golfer from the Bulls Eye Country club, Wisconsin Rapids was crowned 1930 champion of the Northeastern Wisconsin district tournament at Butte des Morts last course Saturday afternoon when he defeated his fellow club member, James Simpson, five up and four to go.

Brazeau took a one hole lead in the initial nine, and Simpson failed to overcome the lead. The youthful Rapids star was one under par with a 35 card at the end of the first nine, while his teammate, Simpson, was three over par.

Brazeau and Simpson entered the championship finals Saturday afternoon after upsetting James McKenney and Ralph McGowan, both of Butte des Morts, in the semi-finals Saturday morning.

The hopes of the Butte des Morts club for holding the championship rested on McGowan, who showed well in the final eighteen hole round Friday afternoon. McKenney upset M. A. Rammer, Sheboygan, Friday afternoon, two up and one to go, while McGowan trimmed Steve Knillans, Sheboygan, four up and three to go.

Prizes were awarded after the finish of the other divisional flights Saturday afternoon. A large cup and statuette, in addition to an individual championship plaque went to Brazeau, the new champion.

LOCAL CLUB GETS CUP

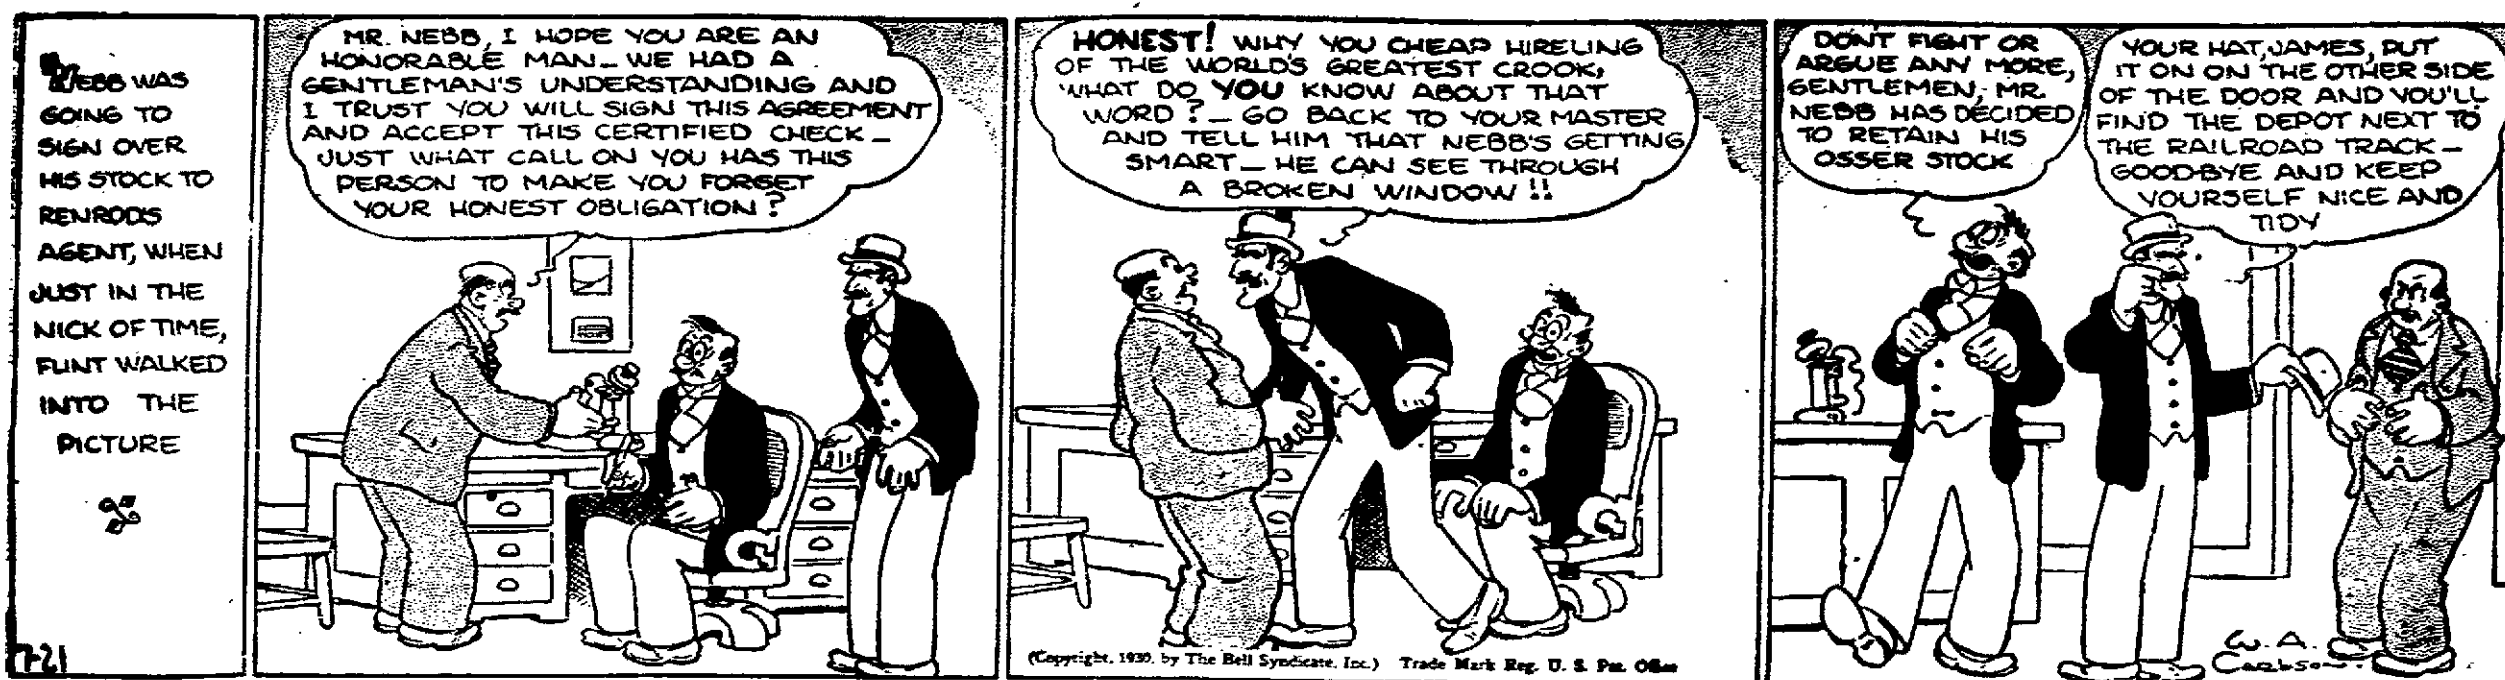

The Northeastern Wisconsin Golf association cup was awarded to the Butte des Morts club. The local five man team set aside the other contenders by handing in a low card of 418 Friday afternoon. Second place prize was divided between the Sheboygan and Green Bay teams. Each of the two quintets handed in a 425 card. Third place went to Wisconsin Rapids with a 427; fourth, Oshkosh, 429; fifth, Riverview country club, Appleton, 435; sixth, Fond du Lac, 438, and seventh, Whiting club, 476.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN

by RICHARD STARR

SYNOPSIS: Jacqueline Grey's quest of adventure on her 500 pound bequest temporarily is forgotten. She is wanted by police for questioning in a theft of a $10,000 diamond necklace. She debates what course to pursue when she finds she has the necklace. Mr. Porter Mason, the thief, gave it to her at Ciro's when it was raided. Ignorant of the ways of police Jacqueline is worried over her predicament which she views as serious. Mr. Arthur Carew calls and Jacqueline accepts his invitation for dinner and the theater. She is wary and keeps her own counsel. Through the bedroom door she spies upon him as he searches her living room for the diamond necklace.

Then to her own surprise she felt that she wanted to cry. But she did not. She smoked a cigaret instead and whistled as she undressed.

She was feeling pretty miserable when she got up the next morning and had a late breakfast in her sitting-room. Instead of going downstairs. With the breakfast came the page-boy with an envelope addressed to her.

"A gentleman came to see you last night, ma'am, after you were gone out. When he heard that you were gone out, he left this and said he would call again. I sort of forgot to give you this when you came back, ma'am, because I was gone late."

A branch of hotel discipline here, but Jacqueline did not worry about it. Teddy at last. He had come last night while she was out with the wretched man, Carew.

She sent the boy away with the brightest smile, and when she was alone, gazed over the writing of the envelope. She had never seen his handwriting before. What a fine, bold, hand it was. Anybody could see at a glance that a man who wrote like this was honest and open as the day. It was so like Teddy. She tore open the envelope.

She took from it not a letter, but a visiting card. On it she read:

DETECTIVE INSPECTOR McALLISTER.

New Scotland Yard

There was no more breakfast for Jacqueline. In her first panic she rushed into her bedroom and started frantically packing a bag.

Better to run away. Better to go back to Byrnes and the peace of obscurity than to be arrested and hurled into prison. But she stopped in the middle of her preparations. No, she would not run away.

She lunched in her own room, of pretended to lunch. And it was not until the afternoon that the page-boy announced that there was another gentleman to see her.

"Show him up," she said, listlessly.

The next time the door opened, she saw Teddy Montrose standing in the room smiling at her.

The sight of him, fresh and smiling, was like the sight of a sail to the marooned mariner.

"Oh, of course you are not a thief," said Teddy sternly. "What nonsense. You a thief? Ridiculous."

"But I am."

"You am—I mean you are what?"

"A thief. I've got the diamond necklace."

"You've got w-what," stammered Teddy.

"I've got the stolen necklace, the 32 graduated diamonds and the star pendant worth 10,000 pounds. It's here."

She lifted the attenuated palm by the stem and pointed to the pot.

"It's in there. The necklace! Oh, look."

Teddy looked long and carefully, his nose almost in the pot. Then he laughed with a little note of relief.

"It's all right. You've caught me. On to you. Ha-ha!"

"What do you mean—I've caught you—ha-ha? I don't think I'm trying to be funny, because I am not."

"There's nothing there," said Teddy.

"W-w-what?" gurgled Jacqueline.

"The pot's empty, except for a bit of dirt."

Whereupon Jacqueline put her nose into the pot. It was empty.

FARM PRICE LEVEL DROPS ONE POINT, BUREAU REPORTS

Average on June 15 Slightly Lower Than That of Previous Month

Washington — The index of the general level of farm prices declined 1 point from May 15 to June 15, and at 123 per cent of the pre-war level on June 15, the index was 12 points lower than a year ago and was at the lowest levels since October, 1922, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The decline in the index from May 15 to June 15 was the result of lower farm prices for cotton, cottonseed, oats, rye, barley, flax, potatoes, cattle, sheep, wool and all dairy and poultry products. Farm prices of corn, wheat, apples, hogs, calves, and lambs made slight advances from May 15 to June 15.

June 15 indices of prices of farm products, by groups, showed poultry and dairy products down 7 points from May 15; dairy products, down 5 points; cotton and cottonseed, down 4 points; meat animals down 1 point. The farm price index for grains was up 1 point from May; that for fruits and vegetables showed no change for the period.

As compared to a year ago the price index for poultry and dairy products was down 37 points; cotton and cottonseed down 31 points; meat animals down 22 points; dairy products down 17 points; and grains down 5 points. Prices of fruits and vegetables, were 73 points higher than last year.

HOGS IN ADVANCE
The farm price of hogs advanced approximately 1 per cent from May 15 to a level on June 15 which was about 8 per cent lower than a year ago. The price advance from May to June was accompanied by a 5 per cent decline in storage holdings of pork. The corn-hog ratio for the United States was 11.5 on June 15 as compared with 11.6 a month earlier and 11.3 in June, 1929.

Increased supplies of beef cattle tended to depress the United States average farm price of cattle. At $8.20 per hundredweight, the June 15 price was approximately 2 per cent lower than on May 15 and 16 per cent lower than on June 15, 1929. In the 4-week period ended June 14, receipts of cattle at 7 primary markets were 5 per cent greater than in a similar period ended May 17, and were about 14 per cent greater than receipts in the corresponding period of last year.

The United States average farm price of corn advanced approximately 1.7 per cent from May 15 to June 15. The advance was general throughout the country but largest in the South Atlantic and Far Western States. On June 15, corn prices were still about 8 per cent lower than a year ago. Factors which favored this advance are the relatively small commercial stocks, indications pointing to only moderate marketings for the remainder of the season, and an acceleration of activity among industrial users of corn.

The June 15 farm price of wheat was not greatly different from that of a month ago. An advance of approximately one per cent in the Northern States was almost wholly offset by declines of one per cent in the South Atlantic States and 2 per cent in the South Central States where the 1930 crop is now coming to market.

From the 10th to the 15th of June, little wheat moved to markets in Northern States and the farm prices reported were largely nominal figures. Consequently, the sharp break in market prices, which occurred about the middle of the month, was not fully reflected in the June 15 farm price.

POTATOES ARE LOWER
A considerable increase in early crop shipments resulted in a decline of approximately 1 per cent in the United States average farm price of potatoes from May 15 to June 15. Price movements in various parts of the country varied widely. A decline of 15 per cent was registered for the South Central States, the farm price in the North Atlantic Division dropped 3 per cent and in the South Atlantic Division 3 per cent. Potato prices advanced 6 per cent in the West North Central area, 3 per cent in the Far West and 2 per cent in the East North Central Division. For the country as a whole, June 15 farm prices averaged about two and one-third times as high as a year ago.

Low exports and domestic consumption and a generally slow trade in cotton bales were factors contributing to the 3 per cent decline in the farm price of cotton from May 15 to June 15, when the average farm price was approximately 22 per cent below a year ago and at the lowest June 15 level since 1921.

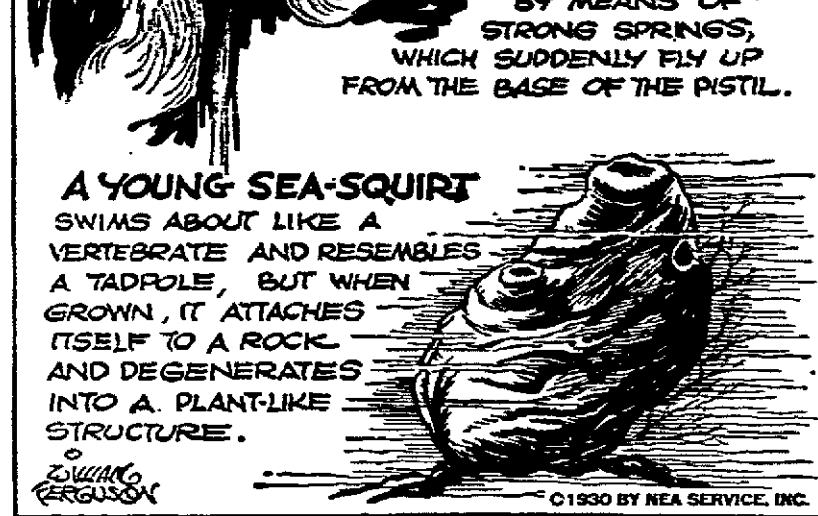

The United States average farm price of eggs declined approximately 7 per cent from May 15 to June 15. The price decline was accompanied by a seasonal increase in storage holdings which raised accumulations to a level about 67 per cent above a year ago as early as June 1. At 15.5 cents per dozen on June 15, the farm price of eggs was 23 per cent below a year ago.

In comparison to the usual 3 per cent seasonal decline, the average farm price of butterfat dropped 13 per cent from May 15 to June 15. As a consequence, the June 15 price of 3.5 cents per pound is the lowest reported since 1921. The decline from May 15 to June 15 was accompanied by a heavy into-storage movement of butter. Holdings on June 1 were approximately 77 per cent greater than a year ago.

Discover New Verses By Persia's Best Ambassador

Washington, D. C.—Another book of verses to be read underneath the bough with a loaf of bread and a thermos bottle of well-lemonade—may be the product of the discovery of a Calcutta bookshop of an early volume of Omar Khayyam's Rubaiyat containing 135 more quatrains than Fitzgerald translated.

Only the volume in the Bodleian Library at Oxford is older than the newly found illustrated manuscript which, according to news from India, bears the date 1555.

POET TO THE WEST
"Omar, the Tentmaker," fast in his grave on which the peach petals blow at Nishapur continues to be, despite the gap of 900 years, Persia's best ambassador to English-speaking countries," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington, D. C.

"Yet he who sang:
'I sometimes think that never blows off red
The Rose where some buried Caesar bled,'

is little known as poet in his own country. Abu'l-hat'h Omar, son of Ibrahim the Tentmaker of Nishapur, for such was his name, holds in Persia some modest fame as a mathematician, an ancient wise man, who, about the time William the Conqueror was conquering England, assisted in revising the Persian calendar. But Omar, a poet: We have far better poets than he, the Persians say. The Western World will never believe it.

"If Omar Khayyam is a poet without honor in his own country there are certain geographic reasons for the neglect as well as for his acceptance by moderns. Persians were in Omar's day and are to this day dominated by Mohammedan mysticism which Omar, who was as much a doubter and a realist as most twentieth century scientists, flouted with verses. Perhaps it is no accident that Omar, himself a scientist and mathematician, has been found at the side of the modern scientist, throwing doubts and question marks at cherished beliefs as skillfully as laboratory research workers toss test tubes, equations and graphs, at the same targets.

SCOFFED AT ORTHODOX VIEWS
"Religious teachers in Omar's Persia held out promises of a practical delightful Paradise which they did not hesitate to describe minutely. Doubting, Omar wrote:
'Ah, make the most of what we yet may spend,
Before we too unto the Dust descend.
The teachers insisted on obedience to the Koran's order against the use of intoxicating liquor. Omar, living in Persia, the original home of the grape, and loving wine, wrote:
'Ah, my beloved, lift the cup that clears Today of past regret and future fears.'

"Omar Khayyam's verses ran against the tide of opinion in Persia of his day and still run against the tide. He was a heretic; his verses are still heretical. So Persia continues to think that Omar as a poet was a good mathematician.

"Much of the geography, the climate, the flowers, the products, and customs of Persia can be found in Omar's verses which have become so familiar to English readers. His most famous quatrain:
'A Book of Verses underneath the Bough,
A Jug of Wine, a Loaf of Bread—and Thou
Beside me singing in the Wilderness
Oh, Wilderness were Paradise enough'

supplies a thumbnail picture of what passes for a picnic and the last word in holiday enjoyment throughout Moslem North Africa, the Near East and Persia—excepting the wine which is still forbidden.

"From Tripoli to Cairo to Bagdad to Teheran and Tashkent, 3,500 miles, a bough and the shade it gives are luxuries in a land of eternal sun. Grass is even rarer than trees; no such thing as an American or English lawn exists. So when a holiday comes the people leave the seclusion of their towns, wander down to the bank of a stream where there may be a few trees and there 'star scattered on the grass,' as Omar writes, they rest and gossip.

PICNIC IN CEMETERIES
"Often the greenest spots are the cemeteries. To visit the graves of the dead, as the Persians are sometimes permitted to go out once a week, an opportunity they seldom pass by, not so much to pay tribute to the dead, as for an outing under the trees. Graveyards are the favorite picnic grounds of the Near East.

"Omar sings of roses, tulips and the hyacinths of the garden; the peach and the pear trees in bloom. The brushes of artists have added some very definite ideas for us about Persian gardens. Yet a traveler to Persia reports that although he searched high and low, he has yet to find a Persian garden. On that dry plateau there is no such thing as a garden in the American or English sense.

FAKING ART WORKS HIGHLY ORGANIZED BUSINESS ABROAD

Police of Various Nations
Join to Check Large, Widespread Frauds

BY MINOTT SAUNDERS
Paris — With proof that the faking of art works has become a lucrative and well-organized business in Europe, the high secret police of France are cooperating with the police of Belgium, Germany, Italy and England in an effort to run down international gangs and put a check to the frauds.

This has been revealed by investigations following the disclosures of operations by Jean Charles Millet, grandson of the famous French painter, and Paul Cezanne, obscure artist, but expert copyist, who for six years have been dealing in 'old masters' at cut rates.

The demand for celebrated works of art since the war has become so great that the supply could not meet it, whatever the prices, and this is given as a reason for the flourishing business in copying. Art experts agree with the police, and one goes so far as to say that "the United States is flooded with bogus old masters."

PURCHASER OFTEN AWARE
One difficulty of the police in getting evidence on fraudulent deals is that the purchaser often knows he is buying a fake, but he reasons it is worth the price because after he gets it hung his friends won't know the difference.

Those who honestly look for bargains are the chief sufferers from the fakers. French law allows a collector 50 years in which to put in a claim against a vendor of any doubtful work of art. No reputable dealer would, therefore, sacrifice his reputation by selling something that he knew to be spurious.

Experts warn against trying to pick up cheap bargains in the hope of finding something good for such collectors are the natural prey of imitators.

"To discover a really valuable picture under these conditions calls for extraordinary knowledge and

Actress Sues Former Backer

Jean Acker, first wife of Rudolph Valentino, screen star, brought suit to compel William R. Delehanty, wealthy New York real estate dealer, to pay her $15,400 a year. She charges he induced her to quit the film in 1925 and come to New York to live agreeing to pay the amount. She also claims $5,500 is due her in back salary.

perception," said one. "Discoveries of this kind are becoming more and more rare. No one with common sense would reckon on the possibility of discovering a Millet, a Corot or a Delacroix, because very nearly complete catalogs are available. While it is possible for a work of a great painter to go astray, they are not to be found in bric-a-brac shops or in the hands of so-called experts without qualifications or reputations."

FAKE PICTURES IN DEMAND
That false pictures are in demand, however, has been proved again since the Millet-Cezanne scandal broke. Two or three reputable dealers have admitted that they have been asked to secure Cezanne copies.

Highly scientific methods used in perception," said one. "Discoveries of this kind are becoming more and more rare. No one with common sense would reckon on the possibility of discovering a Millet, a Corot or a Delacroix, because very nearly complete catalogs are available. While it is possible for a work of a great painter to go astray, they are not to be found in bric-a-brac shops or in the hands of so-called experts without qualifications or reputations."

France today can quickly unmask faked pictures, according to M.

Duchemin, secretary-general of the Society of the Rights of Artists.
The system consists of a minute study of materials with the aid of radiograph, whether the material is canvas, wood, paint, bronze or any thing else. No copyist could reproduce these substances. One piece of canvas can thus be shown to be in substance as different from another that looks just like it, as one fine print is different from another.
Laboratorial examination can, he said, determine the age of wood and of paint. In the case of young Millet, he pointed out, the fraud could quickly be established because Millet signed the pictures with his grandfather's signature. An examination of the part of the signature of a Millet would at once show whether it was put on by Millet or his grandson.
AN AMUSING MISTAKE
That mistakes can be made by the most careful of experts is shown by the amusing predicament of the directors of the Louvre, with art critics receding in the press that there are two canvases in the famous gallery hung three years ago as the works of Watteau.
They were bought by M. Gaffard, then director, from an agent who represented them as coming from the private gallery of an old English estate, the sellers of which wished to remain anonymous. The price was 1,500,000 francs, but after the notices were hanging critics began to question them. They were the same size and composition of the works of Watteau, but ultimately it was determined that they were the works of his most gifted pupil, Quillard. As such they are, of course, precious works, and the Louvre will probably keep them if a proper refund is made on the price paid.

BOYS' MAKEUP
London—Just what little boys are made of has been answered by Sir Arthur Yapp, secretary of the National Y. M. C. A. Council. The makeup is: Mischief, 5 per cent; pride, 5 per cent; courage, 10 per cent; determination, 10 per cent; love of truth, 10 per cent; fear of what others may think, 10 per cent; selfishness, self-will, and self-indulgence, 25 per cent; push and go, 25 per cent.

Your Question And Its Answer

J.A. Panneck, D.C.
Palmer Chiropractor

QUESTION: Is Chiropractic effective in heart trouble? — J. R. S.

ANSWER: The question is broad because there are so many forms of heart trouble. Our answer is "yes" although it must be qualified by saying that some forms are more serious than others and consequently respond more slowly. Inflammation of the heart muscle is now known to be much more common than was formerly believed. The outstanding success Chiropractors have had in these cases is evidence that they have solved this problem. Heart trouble is not caused by improper eating, by the condition of the weather or by germs. Its cause lies within the spine and when the Chiropractor corrects that cause the heart again returns to normal.

QUESTION: I am troubled with gas and constipation. I have tried all kinds of pills and doctors but without any benefit. What would you advise? — M. G.

ANSWER: Your digestive organs are sick. They are not receiving their supply from the nervous system. A Chiropractor will correct this and you will have no further trouble.

QUESTION: Do you see results in acute degenerative arthritis? — Miss L. R.

ANSWER: Yes, and our best results are obtained with such cases. They respond very rapidly to our methods and if taken in time it is checked under adjustments and will not develop into pneumonia.

Bulls Are Wary as Reports of Trade Conditions Do Not Better

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York—Money in the banks of the bull market today prices into retreat in today's stock market interrupting the irregular advance of the past four weeks which had retaken about a third of the ground lost between early April and late June.

The new bull recruits demanded something more substantial than the frosty pabulum of forecasts of business improvement, but as the month of July is normally a barren period in the business year, their demands were not met. Profit taking and reserved fear forays and drove prices generally 1 to 4 points lower. Trading, however, was in moderate volume. Today's reaction had been foreshadowed on Saturday.

Reactionary tendencies in the grain and cotton markets discouraged bull leaders from offering aggressive resistance to the decline, but brokerage house gossip had it that bull poles were extending their holdings by purchases on scale down. The selling was for the most part well absorbed. A reaction of at least technical proportions might be expected at this stage of an advance and bulls were not concerned.

News appearing over the weekend for the most part only served to delimit more clearly the current quilt in industry. Reports generally indicated however, that retail trade was holding up relatively well for this time of year. The first of the large railway systems to report for June was Chesapeake and Ohio, which showed a decline in gross operating income of 8.1 per cent from the like month of a year ago, somewhat in excess of the decline for the entire first half year, which was 6.4 per cent.

Beechnut Packing's first half report served further to attest the relative stability of food company earnings, showing net of $1.72 a share, against $1.78. The recession in building was reflected in a drop of 1 1/2 per cent in U. S. Realty's first half net. Standard Statistics Co., stated that the first half showed a drop for the first half of about 10 per cent.

MONEY IS QUIET
There was little change in the money market, call loans were again at 2 per cent officially, but were reported at only 1 1/2 in the outside market against 1 1/2 Friday, when eagerness to employ funds over the week end resulted in an unusual surplus of offerings. Other monetary accommodations were steady.

Several issues rallied by early afternoon, as the market turned extremely dull and selling appeared to have been completed. Losses of 2 points recorded during the morning in such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone and American Can, were partially regained.

Such popular favorites as Vanadium and Worthington Pump recovered early losses and recorded moderate gains. There was heavy trading in Eights, as sponsors of the market in this issue endeavored to prove it on the basis of its favorable earnings statement published last week.
Oils also turned upward,
Standard of N. J., and Houston recovering losses of the morning.

The rails were mostly heavy. Union Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio, and New York Central lost 2 to more than 4. American Rolling Mill, Nash Motors, and Columbian Carbon lost 3 or more. Electric Auto Life, in which a pool is said to be active, slept off nearly 4, then rallied. Radio lost more than 1.

The market weakened substantially under the pressure of short selling in the last hour, when losses of 2 to 5 points had developed in leading stocks. U. S. Steel, American
Can, Vanadium, Atchafalaya, New York Central and North American Electric and Columbian Carbon were among the heaviest losers.

Foreign bonds were steady. German 5 1/2, Radio, General Electric,
American Telephone, Du Pont and
American Tobacco "B" were quoted
a couple of points net lower. J. I.
Case broke approximately 10 points.
The close was weak. Sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

BONDS ARE LETHARGIC
WITH SUMMER TRADING
New York—(AP)—It was summer in bond market today and the dull trading and lethargic state was about to be expected in hot July or August.

Apathy towards fixed income securities was reflected in a narrow range of activity and a diminished sales volume. Most of the activity centered in rails which maintained a firm trend. Stock privileges bonds suffered from the heaviness of equity issues. The rest of the market idled.
Offerings of most of the rails which are sought by banks and institutions were slim with prices unchanged.

Foreign bonds were steady. German 5 1/2, Radio, General Electric,
American Telephone, Du Pont and
American Tobacco "B" were quoted
a couple of points net lower. J. I.
Case broke approximately 10 points.
The close was weak. Sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

United States governments were quiet, with heavy issues gaining fractionally.

HOLDUP AT DELAVAN
Delavan—(AP)—Two gunmen robbed an oil station here early today of nearly $500, bound attendant Arthur Campbell with rawhide thongs and drove away. The station was on the main highway through town.
Stores and offices were open on all sides of it as the robbers forced Campbell to open the station safe.

HOG PRICES DROP AS SUPPORT IS LACKING

Chicago—(AP)—Hog prices dropped back 10-15c on the better grades when only eastern buyers were found supporting the trade. Fresh receipts of 45,000 carried 20,000 direct to packing houses. Light and medium weight butchers were taken early at $9.75 and choice lights sold up to $9.90, this being a time under last week's final top. Demand for heavy butchers and packing hogs was inactive during the forenoon.
None of the 13,000 cattle arriving here today went to packers direct.

Sheep and lamb sales were out for better values but met with little success during the fore part of the session. Firm prices were quoted.

WHEAT FLOURERS WITH RAINS AND BETTER WEATHER

Huge Increase in Domestic Supply Also Weakens Market

By JOHN P. BOGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago—(AP)—Beneficial rains and lower temperatures in spring wheat areas, together with a huge increase of the domestic wheat visible supply, tumbled wheat values downward today. Estimates of more than 1,000, 000 bushels of fresh export business today in United States and Canadian wheat failed to check price setbacks.
The United States wheat visible supply increase was 8,394,000 bushels, greatly exceeding that either of last week or a year ago.

Despite indications of continued
export demand for wheat from North America, the Chicago market muster of the time today showed but little response to rally. Meanwhile, believers in lower prices for wheat were stirred not only by reports of beneficial downpours in Canada, and by big arrivals of wheat in Chicago but also by official estimates that stocks of domestic wheat at interior mills and elevators are 27,635,000 bu in excess of a 5-year average. This amount would indicate a total supply of old wheat in this country 22,000,000 bu.
more than on July 1 last year.

Much lower quotations at Liverpool for wheat today than had been looked for acted as a further weight on the market here. Better weather for European crops was also an influence on the side of lower prices.
On the other hand, European continental stocks of wheat were reported today as the lowest in many years.

Corn broke sharply as a result of highly beneficial rains over parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois and at inside showed as much as 2 1/2 under Saturday's finish with December leading. Some parts of the corn belt continued to send in unfavorable crop comments, however, as they have not received rain and temperatures over week end were high.
Fair buying from commission houses developed on the price breaks. A decrease of 701,000 bushels of the corn visible supply was shown, making the total 3,649,000 bushels against 12,955,000 bushels a year ago.

DAIRY PRODUCTS COST SURVEY IS WANTED BY HULL

Black River Falls Man Will File Petition Asking for Study

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington
Correspondent

Washington — A revised petition asking the tariff commission to make a study of the comparative costs of production of dairy products in this country and in competing countries will be filed with the commission by Rep. Merin Hull of Black River Falls.

It is expected that other Wisconsin congressmen, with the possible exception of Rep. William H. Stafford of Milwaukee, who refused to sign the first petition, will sign this petition also and that some Minnesota congressmen will join in the plea.

Minneapolis newspaper recently published a story saying that Rep. Hull had withdrawn his petition for the investigation, fearing that an investigation might lead to a reduction in the duties on dairy products rather than an increase. The first revision was withdrawn, Rep. Hull said before leaving Washington, solely to enable him to prepare a petition which would require a more detailed investigation than the first petition demanded.

The revised petition will limit the investigation to manufactured products—butter, cheese, casein, and evaporated, condensed, and dried milk, with the chief emphasis on butter, cheese, and casein.

WILL ASK PROBE
It will also ask the commission to make investigation of the costs of production in specific countries, including New Zealand, Australia, Argentina, Canada, and Denmark.

It will insist that the cost of production in New Zealand, Argentina, and other countries south of the equator be compared with the cost of production in this country during the season in which the product of these countries competes with the United States product for the home market. Of course, it is summer in New Zealand, Argentina, and Australia when it is winter here, and the costs of production in the seasons differ.

Rep. Hull said that the average cost of production of butter in New Zealand throughout the year is 32 cents, whereas the winter cost of production in Wisconsin is 65 cents a pound. The summer cost of production in New Zealand—the summer cost there competing with the winter cost here—wins in Wisconsin—is still lower, he said.

Because he found the commission preparing to make a less exhaustive survey than he wanted, Rep. Hull withdrew the original petition before leaving Washington and planned when he left to prepare and file the new petition.

The first petition was signed also by Reps. James A. Frear of Hudson, Charles A. Kading of Watertown, George J. Schneider of Appleton, Edward E. Browne of Waupaca, Florian Lampert of Oshkosh, and John G. Schaffter of Milwaukee. Reps. Henry Allen Cooper of Racine, John M. Nelson of Madison, and Hubert H. Peary of Washburn had returned to their homes before the petition was drafted.

STORAGE BUTTER DECLINES SLOWLY

Stocks Still 15,000,000
Pounds Heavier Than Year Ago

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Stocks of creamery butter in cold storage continued their slow decline during June, but were still 15,000,000 pounds heavier on July 1 than on July 1, 1929, and 26,000,000 pounds heavier than the five-year average holdings, according to the cold storage report just issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

On July 1, 1930, stocks of creamery butter in storage amounted to 106,727,000 pounds as compared with 91,962,000 pounds a year ago. American cheese stocks were the heaviest on record on July 1, 1930, amounting to 70,209,000 pounds as against 63,737,000 pounds on July 1, 1929. Stocks of other types of cheese were also comparatively heavier than a year ago.

Holdings of shell eggs, of poultry, and frozen egg stocks all showed heavy increases. An excess of 2,232,000 cases of shell eggs was reported over the 8,510,000 cases on hand in 1929, and holdings of poultry showed a 12 million pound increase, going from 42,901,000 pounds in 1929 to 54,134,000 this year. Frozen egg stocks totaled 115,120,000 in 1930 against 84,766,000 in 1929.

GOVERNOR'S JOB CHIEF GOAL IN TEXAS PRIMARY

11 Candidates in Race for Democratic Nomination on July 26

Dallas, Texas.—(AP)—Texas' eleven-candidate race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in the primary of July 26 has overshadowed other incidents of a campaign that ordinarily would loom large.

Republicans will hold their second primary since statehood, with this primary affording initial opportunity for realignments after the outcome of the 1928 presidential election which swept this previously staunchly democratic state into the republican column.

Texas will choose democratic and republican nominees for all state and county offices, for one place in the U. S. senate, and for all 18 places in the house of representatives.

The republicans have made a determined effort to place outstanding men on their ballot, hoping to retain strength developed in the last presidential race.

Ten men and one woman are democratic candidates for governor. Followers of several aspirants practically have assured a second, or runoff, primary Aug. 23.

In the democratic gubernatorial free-for-all, Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, former governor, decided to try for a "comeback" after the state supreme court barred her husband, a former governor. He was impeached and removed in 1917.

Thomas B. Love, anti-Smith leader, bases his candidacy on opposition to Tammany.

Others in the democratic battle include: R. S. Sterling, chairman of the state highway commission and publisher of the Houston Post Dispatch; Jim Young, state representative; Clint C. Small, of Wellington, state senator, and Lieut. Gov. Barry Miller.

Ernie B. Mayfield, former United States senator, also seeks the nomination, as do Paul Leven, Dr. C. E. Walker, C. C. Moody, and Frank Putman.

When the democratic vote was split in 1924 and Mrs. Ferguson was elected, Dr. George C. Butte, former member of the faculty of the University of Texas, polled 294,370 votes against the winner's 422,558. With that background, he is considered the strongest contender for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

His opponents include H. E. Egan, John F. Gray, Jack Elgin, and John Pollard Gaines.

Morris Sheppard, senate veteran and co-author of the Eighteenth amendment probably will not campaign for the senate against R. L. Henry, former U. S. representative, and C. A. Mitchner.

At the present time we number among our customers 260,274* families like yours. They have come to us for money to tide them over such emergencies as sickness, an accident, a sudden operation, or past due bills. And we have given them the cash they needed without asking them to put up stock, bonds or real estate for security—without asking them to undergo the embarrassment of appealing to friends for endorsements.

Many ask how we dare to make loans on the limited security possessed by so many thousands of families. Our answer is that our fifty-two years of experience in lending money has given us faith in the basic integrity and honesty of the American Family. We regard it as the best security in the world for a loan.

In addition to these liberal features, no fines, fees, or deductions are made under the Household Loan Plan. Neither are inquiries made among your friends, relatives, or of your employer. We give you as long as twenty months to repay your loan and charge you only for the actual time you keep the money. Our rate is nearly one-third lower than the lawful rate.

In this community Household makes loans of less than $100 at a slightly higher rate than the rate on loans of $100 to $500. Come in—Write or Phone.
